Both Sides Now Sheila McManus, 2022-08-24 How do borderlands work How do they maintain their distinctive features in the face of concerted efforts on the part of nation states to make each of their borderlines into a harsh demarcation According to most contemporary political discourse and popular perceptions the two borders of the United States West have little in common but understanding their borderlands similarities can help us understand some of the most powerful forces shaping human history and the world around us understanding their historiographies gives us insight into borderlands historians unique methodology Both Sides Now Writing the Edges of the North American West brings together leading scholarship in a focused synthetic survey of five themes in the history of the northern and southern borderlands the borderlands as aboriginal homelands and the persistence of Indigenous territories and ways of being imperial and national efforts to create binary notions of territory and identity regulatory efforts aimed at stopping or limiting the movement of certain people across their borders the weakening of those efforts by cross border movement of capital goods and people usually aided by state power and the complex binary refusing identities that persist in borderlands communities Historian Sheila McManus uses these themes to highlight the commonalities between the two borderlands histories and provides an overview and a starting point for experts and newcomers in the field of North American borderlands history to address new questions By conceptualizing both borders together and focusing particular attention on race and gender as well as empire and nation Both Sides Now provides a unique methodology in North American scholarship that emphasizes the connections between these borderlands and others around the world

Both Sides Now Amy Stuart Wells, 2009-01-20 The class of 1980 Six desegregated high schools Racially mixed schools in a separate and unequal society We're all the same aren't we Close together but still apart friendships across race only went so far Why it was worth it More diverse than my current life But that was a different time The souls of desegregated folk Both Sides Now Derek Hanebury, Vicki Drybrough, Libbie Morin, 2020-03-24 Both Sides Now is a thought provoking collection of short stories by Vancouver Island writers Derek Hanebury Vicki Drybrough and Libbie Morin Ranging in time from the 1950s to the present these stories will draw the reader in to the world of a boy and his younger brother who struggle to find the perfect gift for their ailing grandfather a troubled veteran who tries to escape the past by settling in a small community and a young girl who goes to the circus alone and encounters more than she imagined From beginning to end you will enjoy stories that are crafted with empathy and insight to give the reader a satisfying experience Both Sides Now Ruth Pennebaker, 2000-06 Fifteen year old Liza tries to deal with the normal everyday crises of life in an Austin Texas high school a process complicated by her mother's fight with breast cancer Cancer from Both Sides Now ... a Journey of Faith Marcia L. Kiser, 2014-09-04 This book is a spiritual and clinical guide from a faith perspective It is designed to encourage anyone enduring cancer treatments and its debilitating side effects or anyone with a terminal illness to always maintain their faith in God's healing powers and know that there is always faith hope and love if we simply are patient look upward and seek Gods divine guidance Mrs Kiser describes her rollercoaster ride as she experiences her cancer and radiation therapy Although she has her world torn inside out and upside down by fear and doubt she witnesses the healing power and strength that comes from slowing down in life taking one day at a time and listening to God as He speaks to us in many different ways to help us cope with our illness and find a road to recovery through a journey of faith Mrs Kisers background in psychology counseling and courses in death and dying can inspire anyone to face the stages of dying as a normal human process and still find courage and victory in living each day to the fullest Mrs Kiser is more than qualified to offer this guidance because she is not only an oncology nurse with many years of experience but she is also a cancer patient herself who shares her own life experiences in the hope of inspiring others to a better and fuller quality of lifedespite the odds
