Department of Housing and Urban Development. Office of Policy Development and Research, 1999 Builders' Guide to Residential Steel Floors Department of Housing & Urban Development, U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, A National Association of Home Builders, 2005 For centuries homebuilders have made wood their material of choice because of its satisfactory performance abundant supply and relatively low cost In recent years however lumber prices have experienced a marked upward trend Unpredictable fluctuations in lumber prices and concerns about lumber quality have caused homebuilders and other providers of affordable housing to seek alternative building materials and methods The use of cold formed steel CFS framing in housing has increased over the past few years but remains limited because steel has not been integrated into conventional home framing systems Residential floor construction represents an opportunity to improve resource utilization by integrating steel framing into otherwise conventional wood frame houses Builders Guide to Residential Steel Floors provides builders code officials homeowners and design professionals with the necessary information required to use steel floor joists in typical residential construction Timber Floors, 1991* Builders' Guide to Residential Steel Floors United States.
