Building Health Coalitions in the Black Community Ronald L. Braithwaite, Sandra E. Taylor, John N. Austin, 2000 The book is especially useful for researchers policymakers public health practitioners and community leaders who have limited experience in both health coalition building and working with the African American community in particular

CONTEMPORARY SOCIOLOGY An important book for African Americans nationwide I believe it will make a real impact on the way we view comprehensive health care for communities of color in this country Kweisi Mfume President and CEO NAACP In Building Health Coalitions in the Black Community Professor Ronald Braithwaite and his colleagues examine the phenomenon of coalition building with respect to diverse problems and situations they have encountered in their research The result is a significant contribution to knowledge of the method of coalition development and its application in African American Communities The book begins with a historical review of health care and collaboration involving the African American population generally The second chapter reveals federal and research foundation support for coalition building Following this are discussions addressing a wide range of issues relating to coalitions in the African American Community The theoretical basis of coalition building and coalitions in urban communities The role of formative process and summative evaluation in coalitions generally with examples of coalitions combating drug use The benefits that proceed from collaborations between African American religious institutions and public health officials and the role selection and training of lay health advisors Ways coalitions in the African American community have responded to environmental issues such as hazardous waste facility siting Students in a variety of health science and related disciplines public health nursing medicine and allied health social work psychology sociology health education will find this an excellent general introduction to health promotion in African American communities

Multiethnic Coalition Building in Los Angeles Eui-Young Yu, Edward T. Chang, 1995 World Development Report 2018 World Bank Group, 2017-10-16 Every year the World Bank's World Development Report WDR features a topic of central importance to global development The 2018 WDR LEARNING to Realize Education's Promise is the first ever devoted entirely to education And the time is right education has long been critical to human welfare but it is even more so in a time of rapid economic and social change The best way to equip children and youth for the future is to make their learning the center of all efforts to promote education The 2018 WDR explores four main themes First education's promise education is a powerful instrument for eradicating poverty and promoting shared prosperity but fulfilling its potential requires better policies both within and outside the education system Second the need to shine a light on learning despite gains in access to education recent learning assessments reveal that many young people around the world especially those who are poor or marginalized are leaving school unequipped with even the foundational skills they need for life At the same time internationally comparable learning assessments show that skills in many middle income countries lag far behind what those countries aspire to And too often these shortcomings are hidden so as a first step to tackling this learning crisis it is essential to shine a light on it by assessing student learning better Third how to make schools work for all learners research on areas such as brain science pedagogical innovations and school management has identified interventions that promote learning by ensuring that learners are prepared teachers are both skilled and motivated and other inputs support the teacher learner relationship Fourth how to make systems work for learning achieving learning throughout an education system requires more than just scaling up effective interventions Countries must also overcome technical and political barriers by deploying salient metrics for mobilizing actors and tracking progress building coalitions for learning and taking an adaptive approach to reform Community Coalitions Manual, 2000 Making a Success of Coalitions Lakshmi Krishnamurti, R. Hariharan, Gert W. Kueck, 2001 Papers presented at the National Workshop on Making a Success of Coalitions organised by Satyamurti Centre for Democratic Studies Konrad Adenauer Stiftung and Madras Management Association in Chennai on Dec 7 1999 with special reference to coalition government in India Henry Adams James P. Young, 2001 In this revisionist study Young denies that Adams was a reactionary critic of democracy and instead contends that he was an idealistic though often disappointed advocate of representative government Young focuses on Adams's belief that capitalist industrial development during the Gilded Age had debased American ideals and then turns to a careful study of Adams's famous contrast of the unity of medieval society with the fragmentation of modern technological society BOOK JACKET Learning

Experiences Study on Civil-society Peace Building in the Philippines: National peace coalitions, 2005 The Politics of Minority Coalitions Wilbur C. Rich, 1996 This important new volume analyzes relations among America's minority groups specifically the prospects of political coalitions among those usually unrelated groups African Americans Asian Americans Latinos Jews Arab Americans and Native Americans At the end of the 20th century the United States is faced with a situation where minority groups are no longer assimilating but rather are moving toward separate mini societies complete with separate languages cultures and economies Even if society accepts the notion that cultural pluralism is consistent with democratic principles the possibility of political hyperpluralism endless and nonproductive conflicts among groups is disturbing This volume therefore attempts to address the concerns examining the background of minority organizations voting behavior issues and coalitional possibilities This volume will be of interest to scholars and students alike in American government and ethnic and minority politics Power in the City Marion Orr, Valerie C. Johnson, 2008 A collection of thirteen essays considered classics in the field of urban politics from leading scholar Clarence Stone with new essays by the editors and by Stone himself that contextualize the impact of his previous works and suggest new directions for researchers

Minimum Coalitions in Legislatures Donald S. Lutz, James R. Williams, 1976 The Green Agenda in American Politics Robert J. Duffy, 2003 Organizations such as the Sierra Club and Friends of the Earth are familiar to anyone with an interest in environmental protection As activist groups they played by the same rules for years But in 1994 the rules changed With the Republican takeover of Congress environmental groups faced sweeping changes in federal policies that threatened the enforcement of environmental laws As these organizations intensified their efforts to meet these challenges they also altered their electoral strategies and political spending patterns This book traces those actions and shows what they mean for the future of environmentalism in the political arena While environmental advocacy groups have become bigger and better funded in recent years so have the corporate interests that compete with them for the attention of public and politicians The Green Agenda in American Politics offers a new look at environmental advocacy that focuses on contemporary lobbying electioneering and agenda setting in this new context Drawing on interviews with activists from a wide range of organizations Robert Duffy describes what environmental groups actually do when lobbying officials or the public He examines activity at both national and state levels to emphasize their growing use of websites email and action alert networks to conduct more sophisticated grassroots campaigns and he shows how they are devoting more funds to unregulated forms of spending such as independent expenditure issue advocacy advertising and public education campaigns Duffy also tracks emerging trends in interest group politics and provides an overview of activism through the early 1990s He then documents the emergence of more aggressive action after 1994 such as providing campaign services to candidates and mounting voter registration drives He also shows how state and local groups have begun to play more important roles in the wake of the rollback of federal environmental regulations Brimming with new insights into interest group lobbies in general and contemporary environmental groups in particular Duffy's book opens a new window on the influence of Big Money in the supposedly democratic electoral process

Place Matters Peter Dreier, John H. Mollenkopf, Todd Swanstrom, 2004 Analyzes the problematic trends facing America's cities and older suburbs and challenges us to put America's urban crisis back on the national agenda

Nuclear Politics in America Robert J. Duffy, 1997 Duffy's work traces nuclear politics from the creation of a powerful subgovernment through the public lobby reforms of the late 1960s and early 1970s and the deregulatory backlash of the Reagan years He demonstrates that while policies did change in the 1970s they did not change as much as other accounts have suggested and that the industry continued to receive considerable federal support The book is particularly significant for extending the discussion of nuclear policy through the Bush and Clinton years including the controversy over waste disposal new licensing procedures enacted in the 1992 Amendments to the Atomic Energy Act and the effects of deregulation of electric utilities Amazon.com viewed August 24 2020

Randolph Bourne and the Politics of Cultural Radicalism Leslie J. Vaughan, 1997 Reassesses the short life and career of American essayist critic and founder of cultural radicalism Bourne 1886-1918 known today mostly for his opposition to US military involvement in Europe and warnings about the military industrial complex Vaughan political science U of Minnesota Duluth argues that his stance from outside establishment perspectives was not a retreat from politics as many have claimed but a form of political engagement free from the suppositions that impede genuine debate and democratic change Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Time, Politics, and Policies Burdett A. Loomis, 1994 Loomis observed the politics of policymaking in Kansas from May 1988 through May 1989 Using specific examples he shows how deadlines occur in regular predictable patterns in the development of issues in subsequent policy decisions and explains how they ultimately narrow the choices presented to any legislative body
