Desertification of Arid Lands Harold E. Dregne, 1983 First Published in 1983 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Desertification of Arid Lands H. E. Dregne, 1985 Desertification Michael H. Glantz, 2019-03-04 The United Nations Water Conference in Argentina in March 1977 and the United Nations Conference to Combat Desertification in Kenya in August 1977 reflect the worldwide attention that recent global food shortages and growing populations have drawn to the destruction of arable and potentially arable land This collection of articles focuses on a primary form of such destruction desertification the creation of desert like conditions in arid or semiarid regions either by changes in climate patterns or by human mismanagement or both The contributors representing a range of disciplines examine and evaluate the social political economic environmental and technical problems related to the causes and effects of desertification Desertification of Arid Lands, The Center for International Earth Science Information Network CIESIN at Columbia University presents the full text of an article entitled Desertification of Arid Lands by H E Dregne Desertification is a land degradation problem of major importance in the arid regions of the world Dregne discusses the spread of deserts and droughts the historical development of land degradation and the characteristics of desertification Sand Transport And Desertification In Arid Lands - Proceedings Of The International Workshop F El-baz, I A El-tayeb, M H A Hassan, 1990-04-01 This volume serves as a source of information on arid lands that is not otherwise available An Assessment of Desertification and Land Degradation in Arid and Semi-arid Areas Andrew Warren, Clive Agnew, 1988 Desertification, 1977 Alternatives to Desertification in Arid Lands Agriculture N. Gene Wright, Jonathan G. Taylor, Kenneth Earl Foster, University of Arizona. Office of Arid Lands Studies, 1985* Social and Environmental Aspects of Desertification International Geographical Union. Working Group on Desertification In and Around Arid Lands. Inter-Congress Meeting, 1980 The Arid Lands Diana K. Davis, 2016-03-25 An argument that the perception of arid lands as wastelands is politically motivated and that these landscapes are variable biodiverse ecosystems whose inhabitants must be empowered Deserts are commonly imagined as barren defiled worthless places wastelands in need of development This understanding has fueled extensive anti desertification efforts a multimillion dollar global campaign driven by perceptions of a looming crisis In this book Diana Davis argues that estimates of desertification have been significantly exaggerated and that deserts and drylands which constitute about 41% of the earth s landmass are actually resilient and biodiverse environments in which a great many indigenous people have long lived sustainably Meanwhile contemporary arid lands development programs and anti desertification efforts have met with little success As Davis explains these environments are not governed by the equilibrium ecological dynamics that apply in most other regions Davis shows that our notion of the arid lands as wastelands derives largely from politically motivated Anglo European colonial assumptions that these regions had been laid waste by traditional uses of the land Unfortunately such assumptions still frequently inform policy Drawing on political ecology and environmental history Davis traces changes in our understanding of deserts from the benign views of the classical era to Christian associations of the desert with sinful activities to later neo colonial assumptions of destruction She further explains how our thinking about deserts is problematically related to our conceptions of forests and desiccation Davis concludes that a new understanding of the arid lands as healthy natural but variable ecosystems that do not necessarily need improvement or development will facilitate a more sustainable future for the world s magnificent drylands

Deserts and Desertification Yajuan Zhu, Qinghong Luo, Yuguo Liu, 2022-02-16 A desert is an ecosystem in an arid zone in which sand dunes cover the land and sandstorms often occur Although desert vegetation is sparse it plays an important role in ecosystem structure and function Desertification is one of the most severe environmental problems today Land desertification can be controlled through many measures such as eco villages eco agriculture biodiversity conservation and the combination of engineering and biology This edited volume provides new insights into the pattern of desert ecosystems and the progress of desertification control It is a useful resource for researchers in ecology forestry and land desertification control Natural Resources And Development In Arid Regions Enrique Campos-Lopez, 2019-03-08 In this book the authors integrate various perspectives on the evaluation of natural resources in arid and semiarid zones analyze development options and discuss systems analysis tools that could be important for the management of technology Physics of desertification F. El-Baz, M.H.A. Hassan, 2012-12-06 Deserts are parts of the Earth that receive little or no rain 25 cm or less per year The physical processes that act upon these parched lands are vastly different from those that shape the more humid parts of the terrestrial landmasses In the desert wind is a major agent of erosion and transportation As the results of recent space missions have indicated this is also true in the case of the planet Mars Thus our understanding of desert processes sheds light on fundamental planetary processes that may apply on any planetary body that is enveloped by a windy atmosphere An understanding of the physical layout of arid lands and the nature of processes that initiate changes therein is also fundamental to thoughtful utilization of these lands for the benefit of mankind It is with this in mind that we prepared this book for publication We believe that the collection of articles in this book will be useful to scientists who are interested in desert landforms and processes and to planners of economic development of arid lands The book also serves as a guide for students as to the state of our knowledge in this field as well as to the topics that require additional research Rural Views of Arid Lands Development Ghai H. Fariz, 1992 Sand Transport and Desertification in Arid Lands Farouk El-Baz, I. A. El-Tayeb, Mohamed Hassan, 1990 Sand Transport and Desertification in Arid Lands F. El-Baz, 1990 Arid Lands Newsletter, 1986 Research and Training for Management of Arid Lands J. A. Mabbutt, 1980 Human Intervention in the Climatology of Arid Lands Donald R. Haragan, 1990 Vegetation Degradation in Central Asia under the Impact of Human Activities N. Kharin, 2011-06-27 This book is about desertification The author describes vegetation degradation as a part of the integral process of desert ecosystem degradation in Central Asia under the impact of human activities A connection is made between political and social factors and degradation of desert environments in historical perspective Fragile desert ecosystems suffer first of all from the loss of vegetation Wildlife is reduced productivity of desert rangelands fall and the people also suffer from a shortage of food The after effect of this process is catastrophic not only for the desert itself but also for the people living in the desert Several measures are also discussed in the book for conservation of desert vegetation and rehabilitation of desert lands
