Design Reuse - Engineering Design Conference '98 Sangarappillai Sivaloganathan, T. M. M. Shahin, 1998 Collected papers from the Engineering Design Conference 98 held at Brunel University UK 23-25 June 1998. This paper includes bibliographical references and index.

Practical Design of Ships and Other Floating Structures You-Sheng Wu, Guo-Jun Zhou, Wei-Cheng Cui, 2001-08-22. This proceedings contains the papers presented at The 8th International Symposium on Practical Design of Ships and Other Floating Structures held in China in September 2001. The first PRADS of the 21st Century. The overall aim of PRADS symposia is to advance the design of ships and other floating structures as a professional discipline and science by exchanging knowledge and promoting discussion of relevant topics in the fields of naval architecture and marine and offshore engineering. In line with the aim in welcoming the new era, this Symposium is intended to increase international co-operation and give a momentum for the new development of design and production technology of ships and other floating structures for efficiency, economy, safety, and environmental production. The main themes of this Symposium are Design, Synthesis, Production, Hydrodynamics, Structures, and Materials of Ships and Floating Systems. Proposals for over 270 papers from 26 countries and regions within the themes were received for PRADS 2001 and about 170 papers were accepted for presentation at the symposium. With the high quality of the proposed papers, the Local Organising Committee had a difficult task to make a balanced selection and to control the total number of papers for fitting into the allocated time schedule approved by the Standing Committee of PRADS. Volume I covers design, synthesis, production, and part of hydrodynamics. Volume II contains the rest of hydrodynamics and structures and materials.

Design for Configuration Asko Riitahuhta, Antti Pulkkinen, 2012-12-06. Product Structuring for Design Reuse. Product Platform systems Configuration and Modularisation is gaining growing attention in global operating companies as a means to enhance productivity in manufacturing of customised product variants. In that situation, it was a great opportunity to get the 5 Product Structuring Workshop to Tampere. The special theme of the workshop was chosen Design for Configuration. We see that Knowledge Systematisation is an important research area for Product Structuring. We made a decision to apply Knowledge Systematisation for the workshop itself. We used the small group working method Double Team Method in workshop discussions for creating added values based on presented papers and after workshop we have made a synthesis for crystallizing results from papers and group works. On the behalf of organisers, I thank for the enthusiastic participation on the all of workshop and Finnish Academy and Tampere Centre of Expertise for stages funding the workshop and publication of this book. I am sure that all participants would like to join to my many thanks for the workshop secretary Ms Jenni Kauppila for her efficient organisation work. After workshop she has made excellent work as our editorial secretary.

Object-Oriented Technology. ECOOP '98 Workshop Reader Serge Demeyer, Jan Bosch, 2003-07-31. At the time of writing mid October 1998 we can look back at what has been a very successful ECOOP 98. Despite the time of the year in the middle of what is traditionally regarded as a holiday period ECOOP 98 was a record breaker in terms of number of participants Over 700 persons found their way to the campus of the Brussels Free University to participate in a wide range of activities This 3rd ECOOP workshop reader reports on many of these activities It contains a careful selection of the input and a cautious summary of the outcome for the numerous discussions that happened during the workshops demonstrations and posters As such this book serves as an excellent snapshot of the state of the art in the field of object oriented programming About the diversity of the submissions A workshop reader is by its very nature quite diverse in the topics covered as well as in the form of its contributions This reader is not an exception to this rule as editors we have given the respective organizers much freedom in their choice of presentation because we feel form follows content This explains the diversity in the types of reports as well as in their lay out

Integration of Process Knowledge into Design Support Systems Hubert Kals, Fred van Houten, 2013-04-17 Design is a fundamental creative human activity This certainly applies to the design of artefacts the realisation of which has to meet many constraints and ever raising criteria The world in which we live today is enormously influenced by the human race Over the last century these artefacts have dramatically changed the living conditions of humans The present wealth in very large parts of the world depends on it All the ideas for better and new artefacts brought forward by humans have gone through the minds of designers who have turned them into feasible concepts and subsequently transformed them into realistic product models The designers have been still are and will remain the leading change agents in the physical world Manufacturability of artefacts has always played a significant role in design In pre industrial manufacturing the blacksmith held the many design and realisation aspects of a product in one hand The synthesis of the design and manufacturing aspects took almost implicitly place in the head of the man All the knowledge and the skills were stored in one person Education and training took place along the line of many years of apprenticeship When the production volumes increased assembling to measure was no longer tolerated and production efficiency became essential design process planning production planning and fabrication became separated concerns The designers created their own world separated from the production world They argued that restrictions in the freedom of designing would badly influence their creativity in design
