Islam, Liberalism, and Ontology Joseph J. Kaminski,2021-03-31 This book offers comparative ontologies of both Islam and liberalism as discourses more broadly construed The author argues that despite recent efforts to speak of overlapping consensus and discursive congruence the fundamental categories that constitute Islam and Liberalism remain very different and that these differences should be taken seriously Thus far no recent scholarly works have explicitly or meticulously broken down where these differences lie The author rigorously explores questions related to rights moral epistemologies the role of religion in the public sphere and more general approaches to legal discourse via primary and canonical sources constitutive of both Islam and liberalism He then goes on to articulate why communitarian modes of thought are better suited for engaging with Islam and contemporary socio political modes of organization than liberalism is This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of politics and international relations Islam liberalism and communitarianism The Relationships Among the Gospels Albert Cook Outler,1978
