Competition Policy The Transformation:

Rules of Competition and East-West Integration Michael Fritsch, Hendrik Hansen, 2012-12-06 Integration of the Central and Eastern European Countries CEECs into the European Union EU has become more a question of timing than a question whether it will or should be made Since one of the objectives of the EU is to establish a system ensuring competition in the internal market is not distorted the question arises if the CEECs can be integrated into such a competitive system Which rules of competition are appropriate to improve the economic integration of the CEECs and to promote at the same time the enduring transition process The relationship between competition policy and East West integration is the general theme of the contributions in this book One central issue of this volume is the way of integrating the Central and East European countries into the EU and supporting their development by liberalizing trade with the EU A second issue is the implementation of a market economy in the post socialist countries of Eastern Europe and in particular the aspect of implementing competition rules at a time when markets are just emerging The twelve selected papers are organized in three sections Competition Policy and Integration part 1 Competition Policy During Transition part 2 Competition Trade Policy and East West Integration part 3 The International Handbook of Competition Manfred Neumann, Jürgen Weigand, 2005-02-01

This indispensable new Handbook examines both economic and legal aspects of competition policy and industrial organization It provides a scholarly review of the state of the art regarding economic theory empirical evidence and standards of legal evaluation The book aims primarily at furthering our understanding of the interplay between economic reasoning and legal expertise by concentrating on the fundamental issues and principles underlying competition policy

Competition Policy and the Transformation of Central Europe John Fingleton, 1996 Recoge 1 The Rationale for competition policy 2 The constraints on competition policy 3 The design of competition policy a possible framework 4 The statutes 5 Procedures and institutions 6 The caseload and the case law 7 The coverage of policy 8 The performance of the institutions 9 Conclusion Competition Policy in the Polish Economy in Transition Zbigniew Hockuba, 1998

Transformations in Global Governance Sushil Vachani, 2006-01-01 This book brings attention to the growing complexity of managing multinational firms in light of the rise to significant power of non governmental organizations such as Amnesty International and the anti WTO coalition It also considers the renewed public doubts about MNE legitimacy as the free market model comes under greater criticism especially in emerging markets The book adds very useful value in illuminating situations in which companies are facing increased impact of pressure groups as well as governments in their international business The menu of papers really gives the reader some food for thought and specifically for thinking about how more acceptable governance of MNEs can be pursued in the 21st century Robert Grosse The Garvin School of International Management US In recent years a number of excellent books have been published on the failure of corporate governance However nothing compares with Sushil Vachani's Transformations in Global Governance a gripping account of global corporate governance provided by recognized IB scholars Subhash C Jain University of Connecticut US An excellent book for scholars business leaders and policymakers that makes good on its title Transformations in Global Governance Sushil Vachani and the book's contributors identify how the governance structures of organizations are being transformed not just shifted or adjusted NGOs the WTO multilateral institutions multinationals host governments and many other stakeholders have new roles and rules that are redefining how one governs a successful and socially responsible global enterprise A must read for those intending to lead their organization's change efforts in our global economy Stephen A Stumpf Villanova University US and co editor of Handbook on Responsible Leadership and Governance in Global Business The world of multinational enterprises is changing dramatically Their complex and dynamic international context presents them with special challenges threatening their survival on one hand and presenting them with unprecedented opportunities on the other In this volume international experts analyze different aspects of the transformations in global governance ideological variations trade governance competition policy and the rise of civil society They discuss the implications for multinational government relations multinationals self governance relations with NGOs and issues of competitiveness The book focuses on two forces integral to the process of globalization The first is the evolution of inter governmental organizations such as the World Trade Organization and various agreements pertaining to trade environment labor competition and investment The other equally important factor is the rise of non governmental organizations NGOs which have a significant impact on the strategies of multinational enterprises governments and inter governmental organizations The contributors explore these forces in chapters detailing shifts in governance and their implications for multinationals governments and society in general This cohesive examination of an under analyzed area will appeal to students and scholars of international business and other researchers in management schools think tanks management consulting companies government agencies inter governmental organizations and NGOs

Regulating Competition Susanna Fellman, Martin Shanahan, 2015-12-22 Cartels trusts and agreements to reduce competition between firms have existed for centuries but became particularly prevalent toward the end of the 19th century In the mid 20th century governments began to use so called cartel registers to monitor and regulate their behaviour This book provides cases studies from more than a dozen countries to examine the emergence application and eventual decline of this form of regulation Beginning with a comparison of the attitudes to regulation that led to monitoring rather than prohibiting cartels this book examines the international studies on cartels undertaken by the League of Nations before World War II This is followed by a series of studies on the context of the registers including the international context of the European Union and the importance of lobby groups in shaping regulatory outcomes using Finland as an example Section two provides a broad international comparison of several countries registers with individual studies on Norway Australia Japan Germany Sweden and the Netherlands After examining the impact of registration on business behaviour in the insurance industry this book concludes with an overview of the lessons to be learnt from 20th century efforts to regulate competition With a foreword by Harm Schroter this book outlines the rise and fall of a system that allowed nations to tailor their approach to regulating competition to their individual circumstances whilst also responding to the pressures of globalisation that emerged after the Second World War This book is suitable for those who are interested in and study economic history international economics and business history Chapter 10 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license
