objects has been the interplay of light and shadow While one sees traces in Cratsley s images of Atget of Kertesz and of his mentor and friend Lisette Model it is finally the artist s unmistakably unique vision which stands him apart This definitive monograph encompasses the period 1976 to 1996 and illustrates how the photographer s personal battle with the AIDS virus has infused his work with startling sharpness and immediacy At their best Cratsley s pieces offer both vivid testimony of life s potential and somber meditation on its fragility Bruce Cratsley b 1944 has been a participant in the New York art world for four decades as a curator gallerist photo editor of the Village Voice and a Guggenheim Fellow in photography from 1989 to 1990 In the early seventies he befriended Peter Hujar who encouraged him to pursue art and later studied with Lisette Model at the New School for Social Research
