Jennifer Soong, 2025-04-07 An audacious account of what happens when forgetting becomes a way of writing and writing becomes a way of forgetting In Slips of the Mind poet and critic Jennifer Soong turns away from forgetting's long standing associations with suppression privation and error to argue that the absence or failure of memory has often functioned as a generative creative principle Exploring forgetting not as the mere rejection of a literary past or a form of negative poetics Soong puts to the test its very aesthetic meaning What new structures forms of desires styles and long and short feelings do lapses in time allow What is oblivion's relationship to composition And how does the twentieth century poet come to figure as the quintessential embodiment of such questions Soong uncovers forgetting's influence on Gertrude Stein Lyn Hejinian Tan Lin Harryette Mullen Lissa Wolsak and New York School poets John Ashbery James Schuyler Bernadette Mayer and Ted Berrigan among others She reveals that forgetting's shapeshifting produces differences in poetic genre interest and degrees of intentionality and that such malleability is part of forgetting's nature Most provocatively Soong shows how losing track of things leaving them behind or finding them already gone resists overdetermination and causality in the name of surprise as poets leverage forgetting in order to replace identity with style Slips of the Mind is the kind of literary criticism that will
