At Home On The World Markets Dutch Inter:

At Home on the World Markets Joost Jonker, Keetie Sluyterman, 2001-03-01 The Dutch economy has relied on trade for centuries During the seventeenth century the Netherlands experienced a Golden Age built largely on commercial enterprise and trade continues to be the golden link in the supply chain from producers to consumers Yet we know very little about the business of trade and the people involved in it What was the nature of their work and how did it evolve through the ages In the lavishly illustrated At Home on the World Markets Joost Jonker and Keetie Sluyterman look at mercantile dynasties such as the Trips and the Van Eeghens and companies such as the famous Dutch East Indian Company VOC and the modern trading company Hagemeyer that have been largely unstudied They describe the evolution of a unique economic sector that occupies a key position in the supply chain from producers to consumers

The Familiarity of Strangers Francesca Trivellato, 2009-06-30 Taking a new approach to the study of cross cultural trade this book blends archival research with historical narrative and economic analysis to understand how the Sephardic Jews of Livorno Tuscany traded in regions near and far in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries Francesca Trivellato tests assumptions about ethnic and religious trading diasporas and networks of exchange and trust Her extensive research in international archives including a vast cache of merchants letters written between 1704 and 1746 reveals a more nuanced view of the business relations between Jews and non Jews across the Mediterranean Atlantic Europe and the Indian Ocean than ever before The book argues that cross cultural trade was predicated on and generated familiarity among strangers but could coexist easily with religious prejudice It analyzes instances in which business cooperation among coreligionists and between strangers relied on language customary norms and social networks more than the progressive rise of state and legal institutions

Beyond Banks Christiaan van Bochove, Juliette Levy, 2025-05-06 Scholars of credit markets have long focused on banks but pre modern as well as modern economies often relied on non bank credit This edited volume brings together international examples from across history that highlight how guilds innkeepers moneylenders notaries networks of family members and friends and religious institutions among others mobilized credit before and even along banks The volume operationalizes a common terminology and set of questions to allow for comparisons between the wide range of bank and non bank credit arrangements across the globe and across time It will be of interest to financial and economic historians economists and many other scholars in the humanities and social sciences
