Atlas For Marine Policy In Southeast Asia:

Marine Policy in Southeast Asia George Kent, Mark J. Valencia, 1985 Atlas for Marine Policy in Southeast Asian Seas Joseph Morgan, 1983 Ecology and Conservation of Southeast Asian Marine and Freshwater Environments including Wetlands A. Sasekumar, Nissim Marshall, D.J. Macintosh, 2012-12-06 A major concern among ecologists in and outside the ASEAN region is the degradation of the environment and the overexploitation of freshwater and marine resources. There is as yet no indication that freshwater and marine resources are being managed on a sustainable basis and loss of wetlands whether freshwater swamps or mangrove swamps is a major problem in the ASEAN region. Reclamation of mangrove swamps for aquaculture and agriculture seems to be a continuous activity here and the status of marine parks should also be examined in the light of recent resort development activities on small islands. This volume contains numerous recommendations for the promotion of ecological studies and regional cooperation in marine freshwater ecology and conservation with special emphasis on the common water masses like the Strait of Malacca Gulf of Thailand and the South China Sea.

Atlas of Southeast Asia Richard Ulack, Gyula Pauer, 1989 Contains physical economic social and political maps and a country by country survey of Southeast Asia.

The Physical Geography of Southeast Asia Avijit Gupta, 2005-02-24 This will be the first comprehensive and detailed volume on the physical environment of Southeast Asia and will be essential reading for geographers ecologists and environmental managers. As the definitive reference work on the region it will cover all aspects of the biophysical environment and its current environmental problems and management practices. The topics discussed range from a regional view of landforms and vegetation to specific cases including urban environments coral reefs volcanic hazards and the Mekong River Basin. The contributors are distinguished scholars and have a long association with Southeast Asia. This is the fourth volume to be published in the Oxford Regional Environment series.

Resources & Environment in Asia's Marine Sector James B. Marsh, 2018-12-18 This volume brings together a cross section of marine experts who provide a comprehensive exploration of the major facets of Asia's marine sector. It considers both the marine mineral and fish stocks in Asian waters. This extensive volume examines official statistics with an objective eye and provides an overview of fish stock with much focus on the access and management of tuna. It considers global economic issues concerning fishing rights looks at joint ventures between nations and considers law enforcement efforts. The volume devotes a section to sea lanes and another to off shore mineral deposits. It also considers current and growing problems and possible solutions regarding pollution.

The Marine Environment: Policy and protection, 1989 Closing of the Frontier John G Butcher, 2003-08-01 This book is the first on the history of the marine fisheries of Southeast Asia. It takes as its central theme the movement of fisheries into new fishing grounds particularly the diverse ecosystems that make up the seas of Southeast Asia. This process accelerated between the 1950s and 1970s in what the author calls the great fish race. Catches soared as the population of the region grew demand from Japan and North America for shrimps and tuna increased and fishers adopted more efficient ways of locating catching and preserving fish But the great fish race soon brought about the severe depletion of one fish population after another while pollution and the destruction of mangroves and coral reefs degraded fish habitats Today the relentless movement into new fishing grounds has come to an end for there are no new fishing grounds to exploit The frontier of fisheries has closed The challenge now is to exploit the seas in ways that preserve the diversity of marine life while providing the people of the region with a source of food long into the future World Mapping Today Bob Parry,Chris Perkins,2011-12-22 No detailed description available for World Mapping Today Coastal Area Management in Southeast Asia Thia-Eng Chua,Daniel Pauly,1989 Progress and Plans of the Program Marine Environment and Extended Maritime Jurisdictions Mark J. Valencia,1982 Geology and Hydrocarbon Potential of the South China Sea and Possibilities of Joint Development ,1985 Conflict Over Natural Resources in South-east Asia and the Pacific Teck Ghee Lim,Mark J. Valencia,1990 This book focuses on South East Asian and Pacific regions richly endowed with natural resources in international demand to examine patterns of extraction and use and analyse subsequent conflicts Attempting to find ways of preventing such conflicts the study addresses the role of the state and its development policies militarization the impact of the world economic crises the role of modern science and technology human rights and cultural survival Reviewing the strategies employed by the various countries to maintain their access to marine and land based natural resources the book also suggests alternatives for resolving the conflicts at local national and international levels Coastal Tourism in Southeast Asia P. P. Wong,1991 South East Asia Andrew Dalby,1993 DESERVES A PLACE IN REFERENCE COLLECTIONS CHOICE IT ENABLES SPECIALISTS OF ONE COUNTRY OR SUBJECT TO IDENTIFY RAPIDLY REFERENCE SOURCES ON COUNTRIES information that risks being over looked because of its date or origin or that is inaccessible in libraries because of cataloging problems This guide analyses the contents of books non reference materials from the practical viewpoint of today s library REGIONAL REFERENCE GUIDES 2 Environmental Policy and Developing Nations Stuart S.
