Crisis? What Crisis? Orderly Workouts for Sovereign Debtors Barry J. Eichengreen, Richard Portes, 1995 Collected the research papers examining whether there are lessons to be learned from the debt restructuring experience of the 1980s and earlier periods which could point the way towards a more orderly approach to the resolution of future sovereign debt crises and command a measure of international agreement The International Law of Sovereign Debt Dispute Settlement Kei Nakajima, 2022-09-22 This book fills the normative gap arising from the absence of a multilateral mechanism for sovereign debt restructuring IMF Staff Papers, Volume 49, No. 3 International Monetary Fund. Research Dept., 2002-09-23 This paper empirically investigates the monetary impact of banking crises in Chile Colombia Denmark Japan Kenya Malaysia and Uruguay during 1975-98 Cointegration analysis and error correction modeling are used to research two issues i whether money demand stability is threatened by banking crises and ii whether crises lead to structural breaks in the relation between monetary indicators and prices Overall no systematic evidence that banking crises cause money demand instability is found The paper also analyzes inflation targeting in the context of the IMF supported adjustment programs Financial Institutions and Services Robert S. Uh, 2006 Book Computer Disk This book examines international aspects of financial institutions as well as their economic performance and development Emphasis is placed on transition economics as well as Developing Countries Issues within the scope of this new book include financial reporting efficiency of financial institutions Middle East financial institutions money market liquidity economic performance risk capital allocation financial market soundness instability devaluations capital flight and related issues including governance Financial Governance in East Asia Gordon De Brouwer, Yunjong Wang, 2004-08-02 The focus of international financial reform in recent years has largely been at the global level in terms of improving the international financial architecture and at the national level in terms of getting domestic economic and structural policies right But there is also a growing appetite for addressing some issues at a regional level This debate has focused on improving regional policy dialogue and surveillance processes as well as developing regional mechanisms to provide financial support to prevent and resolve financial crises In East Asia for example governments have sought deeper regional policy dialogue by the creation of ASEAN 3 forum and enhanced financial cooperation by setting up the Chiang Mai Initiative These developments raise many questions What is best practice regional policy dialogue How is a regional financial architecture complementary to the global architecture What sorts of institutions work well at a regional level Do regions need a regional monetary fund What is going on in East Asia and how is it different to other regions This volume brings together a range of policy practical and conceptual papers to explore these and other issues International Monetary and Financial Issues for the 1990s, 1996 Stanford Journal of International Law, 2003 The Mexican Peso Crisis Douglas W. Arner, 1996 Capital Flows in Asia Takatoshi Itō, 1999 This paper characterizes the capital flows in Asia before and after the Asian currency crisis of 1997 Differences in foreign direct investment portfolio investment and bank lending are emphasized There are common factors and idiosyncratic factors to the role of capital flows in the currency crises in different countries especially Thailand Indonesia and Korea where IMF programs were needed Some lessons from the currency crises are also drawn Some representative models that explain a currency crisis are suggested and lessons are very different depending on models that are believed to be applicable The Political Economy of Financial Crises Roy E. Allen,2004 Review of Economic Conditions in Italy ,1999 Management of Financial Flows in Southeast Asia Pakōn Witchayānon,2001 The Reform of the International Financial Architecture Rosa Lastra,2001 Papers presented at a conference in London in May 1999 Transnational law & contemporary problems ,1999 Aanwinsten van de Centrale Bibliotheek (Queteletfonds) Bibliothèque centrale (Fonds Quetelet),1996 New International Financial Architecture and Korean Perspectives Tae-jun Kim,2001 Global Economic Prospects and the Developing Countries ,1998 Index of Economic Articles in Journals and Collective Volumes American Economic Association,1995 India's Economic Policy Bimal Jalan,1996 Bank of Japan Monetary and Economic Studies ,2001
