Critical Environments Postmodern Theory And The Pragmatics Of The Outside:

Critical Environments Cary Wolfe,1998 Unique in its collation of major theorists rarely considered together Critical Environments incorporates detailed discussions of the work of Richard Rorty Walter Benn Michaels Stanley Cavell Humberto Maturana Francisco Varela Niklas Luhmann Donna Haraway Michel Foucault Gilles Deleuze Fredric Jameson and others and ranges across fields from feminist philosophy of science to the theory of ideology Offering American readers a comprehensive introduction to systems theory and responding to the widespread charge of relativism leveled against it Wolfe s work will enhance and inspire new kinds of critical thought

Critical Environments Bruce and Elizabeth Dunlevie Professor Cary Wolfe,Cary Wolfe,1998 Cary Wolfe investigates three of the most significant strains of postmodern theory pragmatism systems theory and poststructuralism and shows how each confronts the specter of an outside not wholly constituted by discourses language games and interpretive communities He then assesses these confrontations in light of an essentially pragmatic view of theory one that constantly asks what practical and material difference it makes and to whom how these issues are negotiated

Postmodernism And The Politics Of 'Culture' Adam Katz,2018-03-05 Postmodernism and the Politics of Culture is a comparative critical analysis of the political and intellectual ambitions of postmodernist critical theory and the academic discipline of cultural studies Katz s polemical aim is to show that cultural studies comes up short in both areas because its practitioners focus on too narrow issues primarily celebrating the folkways of micro communities while denying the very possibility of studying understanding and changing society in any comprehensive way and to any universally beneficial purpose He argues that scholars and activists alike would do well to make use of the analytical tools of postmodernist critical theory whose practitioners acknowledge the political significance of the differences between social groups but do not consider them to be unbridgeable and so seek to develop a set of practices for creating a truly inclusive truly democratic public sphere

Absent Environments Andreas Philippopoulos-Mihalopoulos,2007-06-27 Offering a novel transdisciplinary approach to environmental law its principles mechanics and context as tested in its application to the urban environment this book traces the conceptual and material absence of communication between the human and the natural and controversially includes such an absence within a system of law and a system of geography which effectively remain closed to environmental considerations The book looks at Niklas

Luhmann's theory of autopoiesis. Introducing the key concepts and operations, contextualizing them, and opening them up to critical analysis. Indeed, in contrast to most discussions on autopoiesis, it proposes a radically different reading of the theory in line with critical legal, political, sociological, urban, and ecological theories, while drawing from writings by Husserl and Derrida as well as Latour, Blanchot, Haraway, Agamben, and Nancy. It explores a range of topics in the areas of environmental law and urban geography, including environmental risk, environmental rights, the precautionary principle, intergenerational equity, and urban waste discourses on community, nature, science, and identity. The author redefines the traditional foundations of environmental law and urban geography and suggests a radical way of dealing with scientific ignorance, cultural differences, and environmental degradation within the perceived need for legal delivery of certainty.

Reading Landscape in American Literature, The Material Family Julie Torrant, 2012-12-30. The Material Family is a bold new reading of the family focusing on new or post-nuclear flexible family forms such as gay family, divorce, extended family, and transnational family. Reading across a range of texts from high theory to literature and popular films, the book crosses disciplinary boundaries to offer a highly innovative and dynamic approach to changes in gender and other family relations. Unlike most books in the fields of cultural and family studies, The Material Family provides an historical and materialist argument connecting the changes within family to underlying shifts in material labor relations in global capitalism. The post-nuclear family is not only an affective space, Torrant argues, but one whose affects are themselves fundamentally shaped by class. The Material Family is a must-read for anyone who wants to venture beyond the surfaces of family life to the deeper lying relations that have made the family and its new forms among the most important spaces of social life. Its readers will include not only students and researchers in the fields of education, cultural theory, and cultural studies, women's studies, sociology, and anthropology, but also general readers interested in understanding contemporary families and their struggles.

Postcomposition Sidney I Dobrin, 2011-06-02. Leading a burgeoning self-critical moment in composition studies and writing program administration, Postcomposition is a fundamental reconsideration of the field that attempts to shift the focus away from pedagogy and writing subjects and toward writing itself. In this forceful and reasoned critique of many of the primary tenets and widely accepted institutional structures of composition studies, Sidney I Dobrin delivers a series of shocks to the system meant to disrupt the pedagogical imperative and move beyond the existing limits of the discipline. Dobrin evaluates the current state of composition studies, underscoring the difference between composition and writing and arguing that the field's focus on the administration of writing students and its historically imposed prohibition on theory greatly limit what can be understood about writing. Instead, he envisions a more significant approach to writing, one that questions the field's conservative allegiance to subject and administration and reconsiders writing as spatial and ecological. Using concepts from ecocomposition, spatial theory, network theory, complexity theory, and systems theory, Postcomposition lays the groundwork for a networked theory of writing and advocates the abandonment of administration as a useful part of the field. He also challenges the usefulness of rhetoric in writing studies showing how writing exceeds rhetoric Postcomposition is a detailed consideration of how posthumanism affects the field's understanding of subjectivity It also tears at the seams of the contingent labor problem As he articulates his own frustrations with the conservatism of composition studies and builds on previous critiques of the discipline Dobrin stages a courageous and inevitably polemical intellectual challenge to the entrenched ideas and assumptions that have defined composition studies

Bakhtin/"Bakhtin" Peter Hitchcock, 1998 Offering original research on Mikhail Bakhtin by leading scholars in the field this special issue of SAQ both celebrates the recent centennial of Bakhtin's birth and elaborates significant new strains in Bakhtinian thinking The distinction between Bakhtin and Bakhtin is a measure of the incommensurable space between the biographically verifiable figure and the one who emerges from contemporary critical applications of his work While the inevitability of this space must be acknowledged so too must its implications for a politics of culture where theory is concerned Can there be a real Bakhtin and can this one simply be the relevant Bakhtin Is the deified Bakhtin just a reified Bakhtin Exploring both the dynamism of Bakhtin versus Bakhtin and the dynamics of possible Bakhtins the contributors tackle this theorist's range of shifting shapes from the carnival messianistic and the chronotopic through the philosophic and the ideologic to the applied Bakhtin of the social sciences Bakhtin's texts are examined in the context of work by such disparate figures as Ernst Cassirer and Rudolph Rocker while various aspects of the academic Bakhtin industry are examined including the will to mythology by anthology and the inequities of a world market in ideas exemplified by the resource gap between Russian and Western scholarship The state of the archive is assessed by both UK

Universe City Or the Risk of Posthumanism Ann Weinstone,2000 What is Posthumanism? Cary Wolfe,2010 What does it mean to think beyond humanism Is it possible to craft a mode of philosophy ethics and interpretation that rejects the classic humanist divisions of self and other mind and body society and nature human and animal organic and technological Can a new kind of humanities posthumanities respond to the redefinition of humanity s place in the world by both the technological and the biological or green continuum in which the human is but one life form among many Exploring how both critical thought along with cultural practice have reacted to this radical repositioning Cary Wolfe one of the founding figures in the field of animal studies and posthumanist theory ranges across bioethics cognitive science animal ethics gender and disability to develop a theoretical and philosophical approach responsive to our changing understanding of ourselves and our world Then in performing posthumanist readings of such diverse works as Temple Grandin s writings Wallace Stevens s poetry Lars von Trier s Dancer in the Dark the architecture of Diller Scofidio and David Byrne and Brian Eno s My Life in the Bush of Ghosts he shows how this philosophical sensibility can transform art and culture For Wolfe a vibrant rigorous posthumanism is vital for addressing questions of ethics and justice language and trans species communication social systems and their inclusions and exclusions and the intellectual aspirations of interdisciplinarity In What Is Posthumanism he carefully distinguishes posthumanism from transhumanism the biotechnological enhancement of human beings and narrow definitions of the posthuman as the hoped for transcendence of materiality In doing so Wolfe reveals that it is humanism not the human in all its embodied and prosthetic complexity that is left behind in posthumanist thought Contemporary Literature and Emergent Space Gregory Dean Nicholson,2007 JCT. ,1991* Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,1998-04
