Critical Perspectives on Caribbean Literature and Culture Dorsía Smith, Tatiana Tagirova, 2011-01-18 Critical Perspectives on Caribbean

Literature and Culture is a collection of a dozen essays by Caribbean scholars living in the Caribbean and around the world. Each of the three sections of the book explores the Caribbean as a diasporic space through the lenses of literary and cultural systems. Negotiating Borders: Women, Sexuality and Identity examines the creolized identities of Caribbean societies, gender roles of women, impact of sexual tourism and censorship of Latino gays and lesbians. The essayists in this section note that much work still needs to be done in academia to give voice to repressed Caribbean populations. Creating Spaces of Caribbean Artistic Expression: Multiple Representations focuses on how music, identity, art and language depict the diversity of the Caribbean experience. In this section, the essayists examine how the process of creation extends to new cultural expressions. Deconstructing the Diaspora: Caribbean Writers as Political Activists takes into account the tension between oppressor and oppressed, a pressing issue for many Caribbean authors and focuses on the role of writers in reconstructing Caribbean culture, politics and history. In pursuit of a more comprehensive West Indian view, this publication provides a novel perspective on Caribbean literary, cultural and historical experience. The essays featured complement each other in their representation of the multiplicitous Caribbean region with all its claims and anxieties. They cover a wide range of writers and diverse cross-cultural encounters within the Caribbean region and reflect on issues such as Caribbean identity, migration and artistic form of expression. This publication cuts across geographies, cultures and disciplines, enriching Caribbean scholarship by recognizing the Caribbean's tradition of resistance and courage.

Handbook of the English Novel of the Twentieth and Twenty-First Centuries Christoph Reinfandt, 2017-06-12. The Handbook systematically charts the trajectory of the English novel from its emergence as the foremost literary genre in the early twentieth century to its early twenty-first century status of eccentric eminence in new media environments. Systematic chapters address The English Novel as a Distinctly Modern Genre, The Novel in the Economy, Genres, Gender, performativity, masculinities, feminism, queer and The Burden of Representation, class and ethnicity. Extended contextualized close readings of more than twenty key texts from Joseph Conrad's Heart of Darkness (1899) to Tom McCarthy's Satin Island (2015) supplement the systematic approach and encourage future research by providing overviews of reception and theoretical perspectives.

Narratives of Community in the Black British Short Story Bettina Jansen, 2018-08-16. Narratives of Community in the Black British Short Story offers the first systematic study of black British short story writing, tracing its development from the 1950s to the present with a particular focus on contemporary short stories by Hanif Kureishi, Jackie Kay, Suhayl Saadi, Zadie Smith and Hari Kunzru. By combining a postcolonial framework of analysis with Jean-Luc Nancy's deconstructive philosophy of community, the book charts key tendencies in black British short fiction and explores how black British writers use the short story form to combat deeply entrenched notions of community and experiment with non-essentialist alternatives across differences of ethnicity, culture, religion and nationality.

Appropriation as Practice of Memory Dimiter Daphinoff, Franziska Metzger, 2024-11-18. This volume explores how narratives and iconographic codes in literature, art, music, material culture and social political and economic discourses were appropriated and thereby sometimes radically transformed by religious agents and how religious narrations discourses and iconographic practices were reimagined and used up to radical deconstruction in non religious contexts as well as in different or transformed religious contexts Religious appropriation is thereby conceived as practice of memory drawing on reused and creating transformed narrative and visual spaces of imagination The dimension of memory will contribute to a more differentiated typology of practices of appropriation their forms functions and functionalisation Agency and power relations will be important factors in the individual contributions of this trans disciplinary volume that links approaches from memory studies religious history literary studies and art history A

Reader's Companion to the Short Story in English Erin Fallon,R.C. Feddersen,James Kurtzleben,Maurice A. Lee,Susan Rochette-Crawley,2013-10-31 Although the short story has existed in various forms for centuries it has particularly flourished during the last hundred years Reader s Companion to the Short Story in English includes alphabetically arranged entries for 50 English language short story writers from around the world Most of these writers have been active since 1960 and they reflect a wide range of experiences and perspectives in their works Each entry is written by an expert contributor and includes biography a review of existing criticism a lengthier analysis of specific works and a selected bibliography of primary and secondary sources The volume begins with a detailed introduction to the short story genre and concludes with an annotated bibliography of major works on short story theory Migrant Modernism J. Writers of the Indian Diaspora Emmanuel S. Nelson, 1993-04-13 The fifty eight writers included in this new sourcebook have roots in India or less frequently in Pakistan Bangladesh or Sri Lanka but represent diverse geographical areas of the Indian Diaspora from the South Pacific to South America from the Indian Ocean islands of Mauritius and Singapore to the cities and suburbs of London New York Johannesburg and Toronto Their lives works themes and critical receptions are examined individually but with attention to two central assumptions that people of the Indian diaspora share a diasporic consciousness generated by a complex network of historical connections spiritual affinities and unifying racial memories and that this shared sensibility is manifested in the cultural productions of the Indian diasporic communities around the world These concepts developed by Professor Nelson in a previous study Reworlding The Literature of the Indian Diaspora are here applied to a larger canvas of writers including major international figures such as V S Naipaul and Salman Rushdie and talented emerging writers The writers practice a variety of literary forms and represent a extraordinary diversity of ethnicities languages and religious traditions The women among them contribute the perspective of gender along with the themes of ethnicity migrancy and post coloniality shared with the male writers Each entry begins with relevant biographical information on the writer offers an interpretive summary of the major works provides an overview of the critical reception accorded the corpus and individual productions and concludes with detailed primary and secondary bibliographies A brief appendix lists each writer with place of birth and places of domicile The introduction to the volume by Professor Nalini Natarajan discusses several theoretical issues pertinent to Indian diasporic studies Of value to all literary collections and scholars this reference work will be of special interest for post colonial and Commonwealth studies

The English Language and the Construction of Cultural and Social Identity in Zimbabwean and Trinbagonian Literatures Edmund Olushina Bamiro,2000 This study is unique in that it blends insights from post colonial literary theory sociolinguistics and the social psychology of language use to compare the nature function and meaning of English in the delineation of cultural and social identities in anglophone Zimbabwean and Trinbagonian literatures These identities are communicated through certain nativization strategies and the power and politics of English The study emphasizes that the variations in the linguistic practices of Zimbabwean and Trinbagonian and indeed other post colonial writers cumulatively establish different meanings identities subjectivities from those of the users of the hegemonic or putative standard English linguistic code Departmental Reports University of the West Indies (Mona, Jamaica),1988
