Critical Strategies German Fiction In The Twentieth Century:

Critical Strategies: German Fiction in the Twentieth Century Elizabeth Boa, James Henderson Reid, 1972

Critical Strategies Elizabeth Boa, J.H. Reid, 1972-01-01 The German Bestseller in the Late Nineteenth Century

Charlotte Woodford, Benedict Schofield, 2012 The late nineteenth century was a crucial period for the development of German fiction. Political unification and industrialization were accompanied by the rise of a mass market for German literature and with it the beginnings of the German bestseller. Offering escape, romance or adventure as well as insights into the modern world, nineteenth century bestsellers often captured the imagination of readers well into the twentieth century and beyond. However, many have been neglected by scholars. This volume offers new readings of literary realism by focusing not on the accepted intellectual canon but on commercially successful fiction in its material and social contexts. It investigates bestsellers from writers such as Freytag, Dahn, Jensen, Raabe, Viebig, Stifter, Auerbach, Storm, Mühlhausen, Marlitt, Suttner and Thomas Mann. The contributions examine the aesthetic strategies that make the works such a success and writers' attempts to appeal simultaneously on different levels to different readers. Writers tried to find freedom and be innovative while also accommodating the expectations of publishers and the marketplace. This volume sheds light on the important effect of the mass market on the writing, not just of popular works but of German prose fiction on all levels. The Sequential Dynamics of Narrative Ken Ireland, 2001 Building on critical theories of narrative, this study analyses temporal and continuity relations in fiction. Encyclopedia of the World Novel, 1900 to the Present Michael David Sollars, Arbolina Llamas

Jennings, 2015-04-22 Praise for the print edition: a useful and engaging reference to the vast world of the novel in world literature. Twentieth-century Literary Criticism Gale Research Company, 1984 Excerpts from criticism of the works of novelists, poets, playwrights and other creative writers 1900-1960. Kitsch & Kunst Maggie Sargeant, 2005 This book examines the presentation of and attitudes to the Second World War in post-war West German prose fiction. The fierce public reactions which some of these works provoked at the time of their publication are taken into account in this study since their reception provides a picture of the psychological relationship West Germany had with its wartime past in the immediate post-war period and beyond. Writers of Unterhaltungsliteratur and Trivalliteratur are often studied within their own genre but this book sets such writers alongside their canonical colleagues. This approach opens up the possibility of considering whether the strategies adopted to influence contemporary society to reflect that society and to come to terms with the Second World War are determined by the classification of these works as Kitsch or Kunst. The authors included are Alfred Andersch, Heinrich Böll, Hans Hellmut Kirst, Heinz G. Konsalik, Theodor Plievier and Erich Maria Remarque. The selected works deal specifically with the German soldier and officer, the fighting fronts, the home front and the connections between the German army and the National Socialist regime. A History of Women's Writing in Germany, Austria and Switzerland Jo

Catling, 2000-03-23 This volume makes the wide-ranging work of German women writers visible to a wider audience. It is the first work in English to provide a chronological introduction to and overview of women's writing in German speaking countries from the Middle Ages to the present day Extensive guides to further reading and a bibliographical guide to the work of more than 400 women writers form an integral part of the volume which will be indispensable for students and scholars of German literature and all those interested in women's and gender studies

Critical Survey of Long Fiction Frank Northen Magill, 1984 A comprehensive study of long fiction authors writing in languages other than English and of the development of the genre in various geographic regions

Metamorphosis David Gallagher, 2009-01-01 The origins of selected instances of metamorphosis in Germanic literature are traced from their roots in Ovid's Metamorphoses grouped roughly on an ascending evolutionary scale invertebrates birds animals and mermaids Whilst a broad range of mythological legendary fairytale and folktale traditions have played an appreciable part Ovid's Metamorphoses is still an important comparative analysis and reference point for nineteenth and twentieth century German language narratives of transformations Metamorphosis is most often used as an index of crisis an existential crisis of the subject or a crisis in a society's moral social or cultural values Specifically selected texts for analysis include Jeremias Gotthelf's Die schwarze Spinne 1842 with the terrifying metamorphoses of Christine into a black spider the metamorphosis of Gregor Samsa in Kafka's Die Verwandlung 1915 ambiguous metamorphoses in E T A Hoffmann's Der goldne Topf 1814 Hermann Hesse's Piktors Verwandlungen 1925 Der Steppenwolf 1927 and Christoph Ransmayr's Die letzte Welt 1988 Other mythical metamorphoses are examined in texts by Bachmann Fouqu Fontane Goethe Nietzsche Nelly Sachs Thomas Mann and Wagner and these and many others confirm that metamorphosis is used historically scientifically for religious purposes to highlight identity sexuality a dream state or for metaphoric metonymic or allegorical reasons

Edgar Reitz's Heimat Rachel Palfreyman, 2000 This study of Edgar Reitz's 1984 film saga Heimat explores the cultural contexts of the Heimat tradition and examines the political debate surrounding the film's reception Responses were largely supportive but some critics were disturbed by an apparent tendency to induce a sense of uncritical nostalgia in viewers Reitz by contrast had wanted to make a film which would help people confront their memories of the Third Reich The author tests hostile critiques not only against the film's elliptical narrative but also against Reitz's filmic techniques She examines the interplay of realism and authenticity and shows how Reitz dramatizes the confrontation between modernity and rural communities while consciously alluding to the problematic and much derided Heimat genre
