Critical Interruptions:

Sports and Identity Barry Brummett, Andrew Ishak, 2013-12-13 This volume of essays examines the ways in which sports have become a means for the communication of social identity in the United States. The essays included here explore the question: How is identity engaged in the performance and spectatorship of sports? Defining sports as the whole range of mediated professional sports and considering actual participation in sports, the chapters herein address a varied range of ways in which sports as a cultural entity becomes a site for the creation and management of symbolic components of identity. Originating in the New Agendas in Communication symposium sponsored by the University of Texas College of Communication, this volume provides contemporary explorations of sports and identity, highlighting the perspectives of up and coming scholars and researchers. It has much to offer readers in communication sociology of sport, human kinetics, and related areas.

CARE-W Sveinung Saegrov, 2005-08-31 CARE W was a joint European initiative to develop a framework for water network rehabilitation. The project was supported by the European Commission under the Fifth Framework Programme for Research and Development. The aim of CARE W was to support European water companies in their decisions on upgrading their water supply. The system has been developed for and tested by cities representing all parts of Europe. CARE W consists of software dealing with fundamental instruments for estimating the current and future condition of water networks, including tools to assess performance indicators (PI) to predict pipe failures (FAIL) and to calculate water supply reliability (REL). Based on the results of these tools, annual rehabilitation projects are selected and ranked. ARP tool: Information of network is further used for the estimation of long term investments needs (LTP). The tools are operated jointly within the CARE W Manager, which also contains facilities for using pipe network databases, geographical information systems (GIS) and input/output routines. The results from using the procedures are presented by reports in tables and graphically. Aimed at planning engineers, water utilities, and municipalities and consultants working in the increasingly growing field of the planning of rehabilitation of water networks in cities.

The Covid-19 Crisis in South Asia Sumit Ganguly, Dinsha Mistree, 2022-07-05 This edited book provides a range of perspectives on the handling of particular aspects of the Covid 19 pandemic across the principal states of South Asia. As the first academic volume to deal with the COVID 19 pandemic in South Asia, it examines such issues as how India has dealt with the fallout of the pandemic on its substantial diaspora in the Middle East, the competitive Sino-Indian vaccine diplomacy strategies in Bangladesh, Nepal's attempts to cope with the pandemic in light of its limited health infrastructure, Sri Lanka's differential treatment of its population based upon ethnic preferences, and how Pakistan's civil-military relations shaped its handling of the pandemic. The Introduction and the first section summarize the responses to the pandemic made by each principal state in the region. These chapters assess the process of decision making within each state, with special attention placed on identifying and analyzing the actors involved. The Covid 19 pandemic is also reshaping international relations of the subcontinent, and the pandemic has laid bare several new cross border challenges and opportunities that states will have to contend with in the future The book also considers five of the most pressing issue areas First it considers how diaspora communities in the Gulf were affected by the pandemic and what lessons South Asian sending states can take from protecting their citizens in the future Second the Covid 19 pandemic will affect how countries engage in status politics shaping which countries will be able to lead in regional relations Third the Covid 19 pandemic is likely to affect prospects for regional cooperation both for dealing with the current pandemic as well as future crises Fourth it will shape how South Asian states engage in global governance Fifth South Asian states may revisit their relations with China in light of the pandemic This book will be of much interest to students of South Asian politics human security and international relations Routledge Handbook of Contemporary Pakistan Aparna Pande,2025-12-26 This thoroughly revised and updated edition of the Routledge Handbook of Contemporary Pakistan offers an accessible yet comprehensive guide to understanding one of the most strategically located and complex countries in the world It offers a comprehensive overview of the country and its myriad challenges Bringing together a group of leading international scholars on Pakistan this second edition expands on the first by covering the country s political social and economic evolution splitting the topics into the following sections Foundations and Identity Politics and Institutions Education Gender and Climate Islam and Islamization Economy and Development Military and Jihad External Relations and Security The handbook shows that Pakistan s crises have only exacerbated since the publication of the first edition It is a cutting edge and interdisciplinary resource for those interested in studying Pakistani politics economics culture and society and South Asian Studies
