Crosscurrents Contemporary Canadian Educational Issues:

Crosscurrents Lance W. Roberts, Rodney A. Clifton, 1995 What's Wrong with Our Schools Michael C. Zwaagstra, Rodney A. Clifton, John C. Long, 2010-07-16 What's Wrong with Our Schools and How We Can Fix Them examines the status of public education in North America and exposes many of the absurd instructional practices found in all too many schools. Written by three experienced educators, this book provides readers with a direct window into public education. The language is straightforward, the case studies based on real events, and the research evidence clearly presented. With chapter titles like Subject Matter Matters, A Pass Should be Earned, and There is Too Much Edu Babble, the authors systematically demolish the ridiculous fads that have taken hold of public education. As unashamed apologists for the importance of knowledge and content in school curricula, the authors clearly show why the views of romantic progressives like those of popular author Alfie Kohn fail to stand up to rigorous scrutiny. A consistent focus on common sense permeates this book and provides parents, teachers, and administrators with practical ways in which they can help improve public education. Anyone interested in the future of public education will benefit from reading this book. For more information, visit www.fixingourschools.com.

SAGE Handbook of Education for Citizenship and Democracy James Arthur, Ian Davies, Carole Hahn, 2008-07-01 This handbook brings together new work by some of the leading authorities on citizenship education and is divided into five sections. The first section deals with key ideas about citizenship education, including democracy, rights, globalization, and equity. Section two contains a wide range of national case studies of citizenship education, including African, Asian, Australian, European, and North and South American examples. The third section focuses on perspectives about citizenship education, with discussions about key areas such as sustainable development, anti-racism, gender. Section four provides insights into different characterisations of citizenship education, with illustrations of democratic schools, peace and conflict education, global education, human rights education, etc. The final section provides a series of chapters on the pedagogy of citizenship education, with discussions about curriculum, teaching, learning, and assessment.

Scholarship of education and human rights in diversity Erika M. Serfontein, Charl C. Wolhuter, Shantha Naidoo, 2023-03-01 The objective of this book is to highlight the need and value of imbuing the dynamic intersections between education, human rights, and diversity with perspectives from the Global South. The chapters approach key intellectual conundrums of the day from a Global South perspective to reflect a credible scholarly footprint in Africa and in the SADC region. This is deemed timely, considering that the field is deeply embedded in western Eurocentric and overall Global North dominance. This book will provide a Southern perspective on education and human rights in diversity by unpacking each of the following key areas in the intersection between education, human rights, and diversity from a Southern perspective: comparative international perspectives, citizenship education, human rights, literacies, human rights education, pedagogy, learner discipline in schools, aggression and bullying in schools, addressing human trafficking by means of human rights education, social justice, and the decolonisation of human rights and human rights education International Handbook of Research on Teachers and Teaching Lawrence J. Saha, Anthony Gary Dworkin, 2009-04-17 The International Handbook of Research on Teachers and Teaching provides a fresh look at the ever changing nature of the teaching profession throughout the world This collection of over 70 articles addresses a wide range of issues relevant for understanding the present educational climate in which the accountability of teachers and the standardized testing of students have become dominant Canadian Perspectives on the Sociology of Education Cynthia Levine-Rasky, 2009 This collection of original essays examines the complex relationship between schooling and society By taking a critical approach the text urges readers to formulate difficult questions about the practice of teaching and the experience of schooling The text also illustrates the multiple forces that come into play for both educators and for students and challenges the reductive and pragmatic approach adopted in conventional education courses
