Alternate Routes to Teaching C. Emily Feistritzer, Charlene K. Haar, 2008 This book was written for Alternate Certification program administrators by THE foremost experts on Alternate Route Certification for Teachers For the first time there is a book that brings together a broad picture of alternate routes pathways to teaching that appeal to those from many walks of life who want to teach This timely book was written by a leader in Alternate Routes to Teacher Certification and answers the questions What are alternate routes to teaching and how did they develop How did new national programs and federal involvement promote alternate route participation What makes up State Alternate Routes to Teacher Certification and how are they implemented Who are Alternate Route Teachers What does the research say about Alternate Routes and where will Alternate Routes go from here Alternate Route 7, Latham-Mohawk River Interchange, Albany County, 1981

Roadway Incident Diversion Practices Walter M. Dunn, R. A. Reiss, Steven P. Latoski, 1999 This synthesis report will be of interest to officials of municipal regional and statewide transportation and law enforcement agencies who are responsible for roadway incident diversion practices It will also be of interest to others who interact with these agencies to achieve a better understanding of the processes barriers and technologies associated with alternate route plan development and deployment This report presents state of the practice information about the development and implementation of roadway incident diversion practices It documents specific trends in the practice and in examining individual practices identifies unique plans processes and technologies from which other agencies may find useful applications This TRB report addresses a broad list of topics associated with roadway incident diversion and profiles successful incident diversion practices as reported by surveyed agencies In particular it focuses concern on alternate route plans for random incidents those resulting in nonrecurring congestion Light List, 2009 Federal Register, 1965-05

A Heuristic Approach to Alternate Routing in a Job Shop Francis John Russo, 1965 The research reported investigates the use of heuristics for selecting from several alternate routes resulting from partially ordered tasks in a job shop order file The experimental vehicle employed was digital simulation on the Project MAC Compatible Time Sharing System The methodology was to conduct two passes of simulated shop runs The first with two artificially high levels of alternate incidence tested the efficiency of five different alternate routing heuristics in reducing mean tardiness The second pass consisted of runs with the best heuristic developed during the first experimental phase applied to a realistic length and frequency of alternate strings The performance characteristics of the different heuristics are discussed at length In addition some implications are drawn of the computational nature of alternate routing and the difficulties encountered in
