Black Notebooks An Interior Journey:

The Black Notebooks Toi Derricotte,1999 African American Autobiographers Emmanuel S. Nelson,2002-03-30 There is growing popular and scholarly interest in autobiography along with increasing regard for the achievements of African American writers The first reference of its kind this volume chronicles the autobiographical tradition in African American literature Included are alphabetically arranged entries for 66 African American authors who present autobiographical material in their works The volume profiles major figures such as Frederick Douglass Zora Neale Hurston Richard Wright Maya Angelou James Baldwin and Malcolm X along with many lesser known autobiographers who deserve greater attention While some are known primarily for their literary accomplishments others have gained acclaim for their diverse contributions to society The entries are written by expert contributors and provide authoritative information about their subjects Each begins with a concise biography which summarizes the life and achievements of the autobiographer This is followed by a discussion of major autobiographical works and themes along with an overview of the autobiographer s critical reception The entries close with primary and secondary bibliographies and a selected general bibliography concludes the volume Together the entries provide a detailed portrait of the African American autobiographical tradition from the 18th century to the present

Black Aliveness, or A Poetics of Being Kevin Quashie,2021-02-05 In Black Aliveness or A Poetics of Being Kevin Quashie imagines a Black world in which one encounters Black being as it is rather than only as it exists in the shadow of anti Black violence As such he makes a case for Black aliveness even in the face of the persistence of death in Black life and Black study Centrally Quashie theorizes aliveness through the aesthetics of poetry reading poetic inhabitation in Black feminist literary texts by Lucille Clifton Audre Lorde June Jordan Toni Morrison and Evie Shockley among others showing how their philosophical and creative thinking constitutes worldmaking This worldmaking conceptualizes Blackness as capacious relational beyond the normative terms of recognition Blackness as a condition of oneness Reading for poetic aliveness then becomes a means of exploring Black being rather than nonbeing and animates the ethical question how to be In this way Quashie offers a Black feminist philosophy of being which is nothing less than a philosophy of the becoming of the Black world

Wilson, 2009 Poetry African American Studies Asian American Studies LGBT Studies Winner of the Publishing Triangle s 2010 Thom Gunn Award for Gay Poetry and the 13th Annual Asian American Literary Award for Poetry I applaud Ronaldo Wilson s pathbreaking movement into what has never never in history been said About sexuality in particular these poems speak with incorrigible and raving clarity And always they display intellectual curiosity and an impatient gorgeous readiness to make language new Wayne Koestenbaum A warning to anyone tempted to believe that in objectification lies freedom Livid inside an apocalyptic negative capability these poems are constructed through their maker s deconstruction and reading I too felt unmade Claudia Keelan Ronaldo Wilson s POEMS OF THE BLACK OBJECT turns the parenthetical inside out contents kicking and alive person race and being where fate is in store in you not for you out there in consciousness and barely conscious where consciousness is the accumulation of the scarcely discernible experiences Wilson s poems captures states of person the thinking being the being thinking the being perceived and all the slippage between stages of person Black and on the page folding and unfolding layers of social construction Erica Hunt The force here is in the erotic attachment between the human figures certainly but also and more surprisingly between history and present day experience Ronaldo Wilson teases the reader with earnestness while he refracts event and experience The effect is dazzling The poems are panoramic One part slave narrative one part pillow book POEMS OF THE BLACK OBJECT is a triumph of the social lyric violent tender absurd G E Patterson For all the disturbances examined in this intensely lucid book of bodily desire dead porn stars and the high art of human survival the voice of these poems manages to maintain a kind of giddy composure Perhaps the trick of it comes through his sense that pattern organizes trauma and so does speed It s not so fast the pace here we re made to look to see with shrewd intention It is that Ronaldo Wilson's writing doesn't let you get too comfortable It shifts experience and reckoning from poem to essay theory to epistle these intuitive modes of a person in search of a particular poetics darting around sharp visions that could bloody or shine on the tempestuous landscape the black object emerges from Tisa Bryant
