Blackburn Shark:

Blackburn Shark Matthew Willis, 2019-03-19 The Blackburn Shark torpedo spotter reconnaissance biplane was thoroughly overshadowed by its competitor the Fairey Swordfish. In reality though the Shark was more modern than the Swordfish and performed better and had it not been bedeviled with engine trouble in its early service might have gone on to great things. As it was the Shark contributed greatly to the Royal Navy's preparation for war in the late 1930s and performed valuable service for the Fleet Air Arm and Royal Canadian Air Force during WW2. This is the first book devoted to the Shark to cover all of its service with every operator and features nearly 100 photographs including many never seen before and detailed manufacturer images from the BAE Systems Heritage archive. Written by naval aviation historian Matthew Willis featuring scale plans based on manufacturer drawings and artwork by Chris Sandham Bailey, this title offers the most comprehensive historical and technical study of the Shark yet published. Blackburn Shark DARIUSZ. KARNAS, 2022-05-25

This book contains 8 A3 size scale plans in 1/48 and 1/72 scale of the British aircraft Blackburn Shark. Canadian Warbirds of the Second World War Harold A. Skaarup, 2001 This aviation handbook is intended to provide the reader with a quick reference to identify the military aircraft flown by the Royal Canadian Air Force, the Royal Canadian Navy, and the Canadian Army during the Second World War. The handbooks in this series include a general description and a photograph from the Canadian Forces Archives of at least one of the key variants or marks of each aircraft that has been in Canadian service or used by Canadian servicemen overseas. Each aircraft is listed alphabetically by manufacturer number and type. General details describing the aircraft's engines, service ceiling, speed, armament, or weapons load are included along with a brief description of the Canadian or allied squadron in which Canadian aircrews used the aircraft operationally. This is the third volume in the series. It describes fighters, bombers, and patrol aircraft flown by Canadians during the war. A list of museums, private aircraft collections, and other locations where survivors are preserved and displayed is also included. The handbook is not a definitive list of all Canadian manufactured or operated aircraft, but it should serve as a quick reminder of the major examples flown on duty for anyone with an interest in Canadian military aviation. Canadian Warplanes Harold A. Skaarup, 2009-11 This aviation handbook is designed to be used as a quick reference to the classic military heritage aircraft that have been flown by members of the Canadian Air Force, Royal Canadian Air Force, Royal Canadian Navy, Canadian Army, and the present day Canadian Forces. The interested reader will find useful information and a few technical details on most of the military aircraft that have been in service with active Canadian squadrons both at home and overseas. 100 selected photographs have been included to illustrate a few of the major examples, in addition to the serial numbers assigned to Canadian service aircraft. For those who like to actually see the aircraft, concerned aviation museum locations, addresses, and contact phone numbers have been included along with a list of aircraft held in each museum's current inventory or on display as gate guardians throughout Canada and overseas. The aircraft presented in this edition are listed alphabetically by manufacturer number and type Although many of Canada s heritage warplanes have completely disappeared a few have been carefully collected restored and preserved and some have even been restored to flying condition This guide book should help you to find and view Canada s Warplane survivors Torpedo Bombers, 1900-1950 Jean-Denis Lepage,2020-01-27 The torpedo bomber was a very short lived weapon system operational for scarcely half a century from just prior WWI to the 1960s Yet during its brief existence it transformed naval warfare extending the ship killing range of ships and coastal defences to hundreds of miles The Royal Navy and Fleet Air Arm led the way recording the first sinking of a ship by aerial torpedo in August 1915 but all major navies eagerly developed their own torpedo bomber forces The torpedo bomber reached its zenith in WWII particularly from 1940 42 with notable successes at the Battle of Taranto the sinking of the Bismarck and Pearl Harbor It was the weapon of choice for both the US and Japanese in the big Pacific battles such as Midway In the latter stages of the war increasingly effective anti aircraft fire and interceptor aircraft started to render it obsolete a process completed post war by long range anti ship missiles Jean Denis Lepage traces the development of torpedo bombers worldwide describing their tactics operational history and the aircraft themselves including such well loved types as the Swordfish Beaufighter and Avenger Over 300 aircraft are beautifully illustrated

Canadian Warbird Survivors 2002 Harold A Skaarup,2001-11-29 The purpose of this handbook is to provide aviation enthusiasts with a simple checklist on where to find the surviving retired military aircraft that are preserved in Canada The majority of the Canadian Warbird Survivors are on display within a great number of well maintained aviation museums many others are displayed as gate guards near or in a number of Canadian Forces Bases and a good number are in the hands of private collectors Many are not listed in any catalogue but have been found by word of mouth or personal observation The museum staffs and volunteer organizations throughout Canada have done a particularly good job of preserving the great variety of Canadian military aircraft illustrated here Hopefully as more aircraft are recovered from their crash sites in the bush and restored traded or brought back from private owners they too will be added to the record The book lists the aircraft alphabetically by manufacturer number and type This list is also appended with a brief summary of the aircraft presently on display within the nation and a bit of its history within the Canadian Forces Canadian Warbirds books are available through the iUniverse com or the Amazon com online bookstores The Blackburn Shark Carl Vincent,1977 The Blackburn Shark in Royal Canadian Air Force Service T.
