The Boy in the Bush D.H. Lawrence and M.H. Skinner Preface by Harry T. Moore a Note on the Text by Matthew J. Bruccoli D. H. Lawrence, 1972 Dostoevsky and English Modernism 1900-1930 Peter Kaye, 1999-05-06 When Constance Garnett's translations 1910-20 made Dostoevsky's novels accessible in England for the first time they introduced a disruptive and liberating literary force and English novelists had to confront a new model and rival The writers who are the focus of this study Lawrence Woolf Bennett Conrad Forster Galsworthy and James either admired or feared Dostoevsky as a monster who might dissolve all literary and cultural distinctions Though their responses differed greatly these writers were unanimous in their inability to recognize Dostoevsky as a literary artist They viewed him instead as a psychologist a mystic a prophet and in the cases of Lawrence and Conrad a hated rival who compelled creative response This study constructs a map of English modernist novelists misreadings of Dostoevsky and in so doing it illuminates their aesthetic and cultural values and the nature of the modern English novel The Consciousness of D.H. Lawrence Daniel J. Schneider, 1986 This biography of Lawrence is unlike any other in its focus on the essential character of the artist and in its synthesis of the facts of his life and thought It is written not for specialists but for general readers who wish to deepen their understanding of the development of Lawrence's thought and feeling over the course of his lifetime The author blends intellectual biography and psychology to focus on Lawrence's religious nature as a shaping force in his life Forms of Life Martin Price, 1983-01-01 The novel contains imagined lives that achieve a kind of meaning and intensity our own lives do not Out of the novelist's moral imagination the breadth and depth of his awareness of human motivations tensions and complexities emerge fictional persons through whom we learn to read ourselves This eloquent book exploring fictional lives in crucial moments of choice and change stresses both their difference from and their deep connections with life Martin Price writes here about ways in which character has been conceived and presented in the novels of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Beginning with chapters that cogently argue the artistic value of character Price then deals with the different forms character has taken in individual novels His first discussions center on authors Jane Austen Stendhal Charles Dickens George Eliot and Leo Tolstoy who define individuals by their adherence or opposition to social norms The next chapters deal with novelists for whom the moral world is largely internalized The characters of Henry James Joseph Conrad D H Lawrence and E M Forster live in society and act upon it but the authors are particularly concerned with the confusions terrors and heroism that lie within consciousness The last chapter uses novels about the artist by James Joyce Virginia Woolf and Thomas Mann in order to apprehend the process by which experience is transformed into art Avoiding both formalistic and moralistic extremes this new book by a distinguished critic helps us recover a fuller sense of literary form and the forms of life from which it emerges Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory Irene Rima Makaryk, 1993-01-01 The last half of the twentieth century has seen the emergence of literary theory as a new discipline As with any body of scholarship various schools of thought exist and sometimes conflict within it I R Makaryk has compiled a welcome guide to the field Accessible and jargon free the Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory provides lucid concise explanations of myriad approaches to literature that have arisen over the past forty years Some 170 scholars from around the world have contributed their expertise to this volume Their work is organized into three parts In Part I forty evaluative essays examine the historical and cultural context out of which new schools of and approaches to literature arose The essays also discuss the uses and limitations of the various schools and the key issues they address Part II focuses on individual theorists It provides a more detailed picture of the network of scholars not always easily pigeonholed into the categories of Part I This second section analyses the individual achievements as well as the influence of specific scholars and places them in a larger critical context Part III deals with the vocabulary of literary theory It identifies significant complex terms places them in context and explains their origins and use Accessibility is a key feature of the work By avoiding jargon providing mini bibliographies and cross referencing throughout Makaryk has provided an indispensable tool for literary theorists and historians and for all scholars and students of contemporary criticism and culture The Dial, 1915 The Art of Restraint Richard Hoffpauir, 1991 Richard Hoffpauir argues that the works of the best poets have found ways of not capitulating to contemporary reality and outlines the terms of the debate by setting the weaknesses of Yeats against the strenghts of Hardy Subsequent chapters discuss the nature poetry of Edward thomas the war poetry of Graves Blunden and Gurney the love poetry of Bridges Lawrence and Graves and the political and social verse of Rickword Daryush Betjeman and Larkin The Cambridge Companion to English Poets Claude Julien Rawson, 2011-01-27 This volume provides essays by twenty nine leading scholars and critics on the best English poets from Chaucer to Larkin A preface to morals Walter Lippmann, 1929 Deleuze and Religion Mary Bryden, 2001 Despite the ever expanding body of Deleuzian scholarship single volume has explored the religious dimensions of Delueze s writing Now Mary Bryden has assembled a team of international scholars to do just that Their essays illustrate the ways in which Deleuzian thought is antithetical to religious debate as well as the ways in which it contributes to those debates This volume will be invaluable for researchers teachers and students of theology philosophy critical theory cultural studies and literary criticism as well as to students of French who read Deleuze s work in its original language D.H. Lawrence David Herbert Lawrence, 1930 A Preface to Jane Austen Christopher Gillie, 1974 Biographical background Literary background the art of Jane Austen The London Mercury Sir John Collings Squire, 1930 Harold Norse A.
