The Music of Central Africa: An Ethnomusicological Study R. Brandel, 2013-11-11 Under the inspiring guidance of my mentor Curt Sachs this work was conceived planned and executed It gained in dimension under the acute and patient perusal of Gustave Reese to whose brilliant propensity for clarity of thought and of style owe a huge debt Furthermore the helpful suggestions made by Martin Bernstein and by Jan LaRue are gratefully acknowledged If Jaap Kunst had not kindly gone to the trouble of ordering supervising the construction of and mailing to me from Amsterdam his personally designed monochord an important section of this work could not have taken form This preface is not complete of course without final thanks to my husband Harvey B N atanson for his sustained interest and encouragement R B Note As the present work goes to press the political map of Africa is flowing into a new mold Several countries have obtained independence and new names and data should be considered French Equatorial Africa has become November 28 December 1 1958 four independent countries Republic of the Congo Brazzaville formerly Middle Congo Gabon Republic formerly Gabon Central African Republic formerly Ubangi Shari and Republic of Chad formerly Chad The Belgian Congo has become June 30 1960 the Republic of the Congo Leopoldville

Sound, Music, Affect Marie Thompson, Ian Biddle, 2013-03-14 Sound Music Affect features brand new essays that bring together the burgeoning developments in sound studies and affect studies The first section sets out key methodological and theoretical concerns focussing on the relationships between affective models and sound The second section deals with particular musical case studies exploring how reference to affect theory might change or reshape some of the ways we are able to make sense of musical materials The third section examines the politics and practice of sonic disruption from the notion of noise as prophecy to the appropriation of bad vibes for pleasurable aesthetic and affective experiences And the final section engages with some of the ways in which affect can help us understand the politics of chill relaxation and intimacy as sonic encounters The result is a rich and multifaceted consideration of sound music and the affective from scholars with backgrounds in cultural theory history literary studies media studies architecture philosophy and musicology

Sourcebook for Research in Music, Third Edition Allen Scott, 2015-06-01 Since it was first published in 1993 the Sourcebook for Research in Music has become an invaluable resource in musical scholarship The balance between depth of content and brevity of format makes it ideal for use as a textbook for students a reference work for faculty and professional musicians and as an aid for librarians The introductory chapter includes a comprehensive list of bibliographical terms with definitions bibliographic terms in German French and Italian and the plan of the Library of Congress and the Dewey Decimal music classification systems Integrating helpful commentary to instruct the reader on the scope and usefulness of specific items this updated and expanded edition accounts for the rapid growth in new editions of standard works in fields such as ethnomusicology performance practice women in music popular music education business and music technology These enhancements to its already extensive bibliographies ensures that the Sourcebook will continue to be an indispensable reference for years to come
