Randles,2020-10-13 In Essential Dads sociologist Jennifer Randles shares the stories of more than 60 marginalized men as they sought to become more engaged parents through a government supported responsible fatherhood program Dads experiences serve as a unique window into long standing controversies about the importance of fathering its connection to inequality and the state s role in shaping men s parenting With a compassionate and hopeful voice Randles proposes a more equitable political agenda for fatherhood one that carefully considers the social and economic factors shaping men s abilities to be involved in their children s lives and the ideologies that rationalize the necessity of that involvement Daddy Takes Us to the Garden Howard Roger Garis,1914 Purchase one of 1st World Library s Classic Books and help support our free internet library of downloadable eBooks Visit us online at www.1stWorldLibrary.ORG Mother what can we do now Tell us something to play please We want to have some fun As Harry and Mabel Blake said this they walked slowly up the path toward the front porch on which their mother was sitting one early Spring day The two children did not look very happy

My Daddy is a Nurse Mark Wandro,Joani Blank,1981 Describes the work of men with ten occupations traditionally reserved for women nurse flight attendant homemaker dental hygienist weaver children s librarian telephone operator ballet dancer office worker and preschool teacher Dads in the Workplace Sue Falter Mennino,2003 Association Men ,1920 The Penal Voluntary Sector Philippa Tomczak,2016-10-04 Winner of the 2017 British Society of Criminology Book Prize The penal voluntary sector and the relationships between punishment and charity are more topical than ever before In recent years in England and Wales the sector has featured significantly in both policy rhetoric and academic commentary Penal voluntary organisations are increasingly delivering prison and probation services under contract and this role is set to expand However the diverse voluntary organisations which comprise the sector their varied relationships with statutory agencies and the effects of such work remain very poorly understood This book provides a wide ranging and rigorous examination of this policy relevant but complex and little studied area It explores what voluntary organisations are doing with prisoners and probationers how they manage to undertake their work and the effects of charitable work with prisoners and probationers The author uses original empirical research and an innovative application of actor network theory to enable a step change in our understanding of this increasingly significant sector and develops the policy centric accounts produced in the last decade to illustrate how voluntary organisations can mediate the experiences of imprisonment and probation at the micro and macro levels Demonstrating how the legacy of philanthropic work and neoliberal policy reforms over the past thirty years have created a complex three tier penal voluntary sector of diverse organisations this cutting edge interdisciplinary text will be of interest to criminologists sociologists of work and industry and those engaged in the voluntary sector
