

A photograph of a sunset over a rocky beach. The sun is a bright, glowing orb in the center of the sky, casting a warm, orange glow. The sky is filled with soft, wispy clouds. In the foreground, several large, dark, jagged rocks are scattered across the sandy beach. The ocean is visible in the distance, with gentle waves lapping at the shore. A dark, semi-transparent rectangular box is overlaid on the center of the image, containing a quote in white text.

Depending on Strangers David P Levine,2021-03-01 We live in a world where our livelihood depends on our ability to relate to strangers The central quality that defines strangers is that they are unknown Because strangers are unknown they represent in the world outside the unknown self within The unknown self is the core of the personality considered as a potential to become something yet to be determined To be already known is to be determined prior to and independently of our presence in our lives At the outset of the process of taking form the individual is in a sense a stranger to self and to others The more this is the case the greater the openness of the process of self formation and the more marked the role of freedom from predetermination in that process Freedom from predetermination exists along three dimensions the free movement of thoughts and ideas or inner freedom the freedom to relate which is also the freedom not to relate and freedom in relating which is the possibility of maintaining secure self boundaries in relations with others In exploring freedom understood in this way Professor Levine considers such topics as the nature of inner freedom and its relationship to deliberation and choice stranger anxiety and its connection to group dynamics and social connection the internal factors that enable us to make the decisions that shape our lives and through our actions realize the ends embedded in our decisions how our memories shape our thought processes and therefore the choices we make and the lives we lead that result from them what makes it possible for us to live comfortably with and depend on people we do not know concern for the welfare of strangers and how our welfare can be secure in a world where we do not care about others and they do not care about us
