Bronson Alcott,Alice O. Howell,1991-06 Every now and then the past yields up one of its lost treasures This book is just such a gem Bronson Alcott friend and sometimes mentor to Emerson and Thoreau in Concord was also a visionary educator who believed that the psyche of a child already carries within it the imprint of spirit and wisdom At his school in Boston in the 1830s he held this extraordinary series of conversations on such themes as spirit consciousness conscience love humility the Holy Ghost and the knower Record of a School Catharine Maria Sedgwick,1836 In Context Ann Merle Feldman,Ellen McManus,Nancy Downs,2005 In Context is a thematically organized reader which invites students to use reading and writing to participate in ongoing cultural conversations In Contexts units focus on four ongoing conversations that have an impact on events in the world and that affect the way we see ourselves These units include what it means to be authentic how we establish a sense of place how to get people involved in civic dialogues and how the increasingly global economy affects us as workers and consumers The essays dialogues editorials newspaper articles and other documents included in this book reflect moments in these conversations Both the readings and the writing assignments encourage students to see the ways in which others use writing to make things happen and ways in which they themselves can use writing to participate in these various local national and global conversations What sets In Context apart from other readers is 1 its thoughtful and sustained attention to rhetorical issues students are introduced to four rhetorical concepts situation genre language and consequences and are asked to use these as both a reader and writer 2 the fact that students are asked to do more than critique culture and to focus on how societies and individuals use writing and reading to do work to affect outcomes and to achieve results and 3 the inclusion of assignments that allow students to compose not only analytical essays but other genres as well reports letters to the editor proposals and more

December 29th When I arrived at the school room just after nine o'clock this morning I found all the children sitting quietly at their desks engaged in writing their journals or their spelling lessons During this time of silent study Mr Alcott generally walks about the room preparing pencils and pens at each seat and making remarks For the study of this lesson an hour is generally appropriated which gives time for the journalists also to learn it About a quarter before ten Mr Alcott takes the seven younger members of this spelling class as they cannot use a dictionary very intelligently and lets them spell the words over to him and he tells them their meanings Of
