Conversations With Bibi:

Conversations with Bibi Alexa DeWiel, 1975 Niki's Honor Laila Anwarzai Ayoubi, 2015-08-19 Niki's Honor is a tragic and powerful story about an innocent victim of honor killing practices and the family she seeks to protect. Based on actual events still occurring in many parts of the world, this book reveals the realities of these unspeakable acts committed against girls and women and usually carried out by their own family members. In a Soviet-occupied country, Niki, a beautiful young rural Pashtun village girl, becomes entangled in a series of events that bring an end to her fairy tale dreams. She becomes a casualty of a culture where a family's honor and pride is more precious than life itself. Suffering in silence, Niki endures great pain and humiliation yet still refuses to reveal her personal secret, saving her family and particularly her mother from further disgrace. She is engaged at the age of nine to the handsome fifteen-year-old son of a Khan. They eventually fall in love. Her secret is only shared with him. She committed no crime but carries the full weight of a heinous act done by another. In Niki's Honor, a horrific and cruel subject is shockingly presented. The author, growing up in Afghanistan and knowing its rich history, traditions, and customs, adds a unique and eloquent voice to Niki's story. Soul-searching and provocative, this is a story needing to be heard. The story of this poor but beautiful young village girl will have a memorable and lasting effect on you.

Material Perspectives on Religion, Conflict, and Violence, 2022-09-12 How do objects become contested in settings characterized by violent conflict? Why are some things contested by religious actors? How do religious actors mobilize things in conflict situations, and how are conflict and violence experienced by religious groups? This volume explores relations between materiality, religion, and violence by drawing upon two fields of scholarship that have rarely engaged with one another: research on religion and violent conflict and the material turn within religious studies. This way, this volume sets the stage for the development of new conceptual and methodological directions in the study of religion-related violent conflict that takes materiality seriously. Contributors are Christoph Baumgartner, Margaretha van Es, Lucien van Liere, Erik Meinema, Birgit Meyer, Daan F. Oostveen, Younes Saramifar, Joram Tarusarira, Tammy Wilks.

Never Stop Believing Donna McDonald, 2020-12-17 The Holidays Can't Get Much More Perfect. Singer Natalie Bright sings for her supper and for her grandmother's supper too. With bills to pay and her grandmother's illness to fight, life takes all the energy she has, and then some. Love is something she tried once in her twenties, and it didn't work out. Natalie's never stopped believing in Santa, but she's not very hopeful when it comes to finding love. Several years ago, Dr. Jet Rahman lost the love of his life, who was also his best friend. Now his work fills the empty space inside him, and what's left goes to his five-year-old daughter. Does he believe he can find love again? He certainly believes starting over is possible when you find someone who's a good match for you. He and Natalie thought, "Well, they're not a totally brilliant idea, but kissing her makes him more hopeful than he's been in a very long time." South of the Moon Blaine Littell, 1966 Never Too Old To Date Donna McDonald, 2020-02-27 Her business is wildly successful, but the rest of her life is just wild. Sixty may be the new forty, but not for the Honorable Eleanor J. Skyler.

She's retiring from the law firm she spent her entire career building. What's wrong with wanting to wear yoga clothes every day and go zip lining whenever the adventurous mood strikes? Nothing that's what. She's got no time for dating and drama. She certainly has no time to deal with her senior law partner Andrew Carson who has for reasons she can't fathom decided she's his perfect woman. To say she's confused is an understatement. They've known each other for over twenty years. They knew each other's spouses before they died. Why is Andrew suddenly looking at her legs and telling her she's beautiful? He's barely over fifty. He has the tiny sports car. Why can't Andrew chase a twenty-year-old like every other man having a midlife crisis?

Storytelling Practices in Home and Educational Contexts Anna Filipi, Binh Thanh Ta, Maryanne Theobald, 2022-06-30
This book brings together researchers from across the globe to share their work on the micro analyses of storytelling. By doing so, the book helps to deepen the understanding of and track storytelling practices cross-culturally and longitudinally in the home, at school, and in higher education. Through the unique focus on education and learning, this book provides a lens with which to identify how children's and adolescents' language development and sense of self in storytelling are supported in various contexts: the home, classroom, playground, or in the higher education context. It explores the work, identity, and practices of friends, teachers, and lecturers in teaching, learning, reflection, and supervision. Importantly, in identifying these practices, the book presents opportunities to assist parents and teachers to inform pedagogy in teacher education and to support effective doctoral supervision. The focus on storytelling in home education and for learning, and the practical applications of the findings, contribute to the ongoing research in both education and conversation analysis. Force Nine Chris Stevenson, 2026-04-13
Twenty-nine-year-old Diane Nine, a nationally famous comic book artist and writer, has been a paraplegic since the age of five. Her life is upended when she meets the mysterious Chester Chet Strauss. Chet is a brilliant freelance engineer who has created a revolutionary combat exoskeleton capable of reshaping global military warfare. But he is also a nefarious traitor. Through deception, he manipulates Diane into smuggling the suit out of the country and into the hands of a ruthless communist triad. Accompanied by her massage therapist and her caregiving secretary, Diane finds herself stranded in Cuba, fighting for survival against terrorists and a Category Five hurricane. Bound to the exoskeleton, she becomes a walking weapon of mass destruction, driven by a single goal: escape the island with the suit. Her only hope lies in a curious CIA weapons analyst who literally stumbles into her path and joins the melee. As the U.S. military closes in, deploying overwhelming force just short of declaring war, the situation spirals into chaos. The ultimate dilemma remains: the military must find the foursome before it can help them, if it's not already too late.
