Friendship That Lasted a Lifetime Gerhard Wagner,Gilbert Weiss,2011-02-21 Scholarly correspondence can be as insightful as scholarly work itself as it often documents the motivating forces of its writers intellectual ideas while illuminating their lives more clearly The more complex the authors scholarly works and the more troubled the eras in which they lived the more substantial and potentially fascinating their correspondence This is especially true of the letters between Alfred Schutz 1899 1959 and Eric Voegelin 1901 1985 The scholars lived in incredibly dramatic times and produced profound complex works that continue to confound academics The communication between these two giants of the social sciences as they sent their thoughts to one another was crucial to the work of both men A Friendship That Lasted a Lifetime The Correspondence between Alfred Schutz and Eric Voegelin demonstrates that Schutz and Voegelin shared a remarkable friendship they first met as students in Vienna in the 1920s and found themselves great partners in discussion years later they were pushed out of Europe by Nazi pressure and went to work at separate American universities For twenty years they wrote each other developing their respective scientific works in that dialogue The letters bear witness to their friendship during the years they spent in exile in the United States and they document the men s tentative attempts at formulating the theories of lifeworld and gnosis associated with Schutz and Voegelin today The entire collection of 238 letters was printed in German in 2004 but this edited volume is the first to present their correspondence in English and offers a selection of the most important letters those that contributed to the thinkers theoretical discussions and served as background to their most significant thoughts Editors Gerhard Wagner and Gilbert Weiss do not analyze Schutz s and Voegelin s works in light of the correspondence rather they present the collection to create a framework for new interpretations A Friendship That Lasted a Lifetime takes a unique look at two major social scientists This volume is a valuable resource in the study of Voegelin s political philosophy and Alfred Schutz s contribution to American sociology and marks an important addition to the literature on these remarkable men Showing how scholarly discourse and the dialogue of everyday life can shed light on one another the book finally presents this correspondence for an American audience and is not to be missed by scholars of philosophy and sociology Ernest Gellner John A. Hall, 2014-06-10 Ernest Gellner 1925-95 was a multilingual polymath and a public intellectual who set the agenda in the study of nationalism and the sociology of Islam. Having grown up in Paris, Prague, and England, he was also one of the last great Jewish thinkers from Central Europe to experience directly the impact of the Holocaust. His intellectual trajectory differed from that of similar thinkers both in producing a highly integrated philosophy of modernity and in combining a respect for nationalism with an appreciation of the power of modern science. Gellner was a fierce opponent in private as well as in public of such contemporaries as Michael Oakeshott, Isaiah Berlin, Charles Taylor, Noam Chomsky, and Edward Said. As this definitive biography shows, he was passionate in the defense of reason against every form of relativism, a battle that his intellectual inheritors continue to this day. A Whole, a Fragment Kurt H. Wolff, 2002-01-01 A Whole, a Fragment presents a highly personal, experimental work by a great American social theorist, Kurt H. Wolff. In this extended prose poem, a text that reads as much as a work of art as important scholarship, Wolff has created a work of phenomenology that goes far beyond the typical methods of empirical social science to embrace field work as an extraordinary openness to being. Wolff employs a radical hermeneutical method in exploring his own humanity, taking key experiences, dreams, and ideas and continually revisiting them from different perspectives throughout the text in order to describe the self-construction of his life. Including personal letters to Wolff from Hannah Arendt and Hermann Bloch, the book portrays a fertile mind reckoning with pre-phenomenal being in a way that dances between the realms of intellectual consideration and the surrender of will to the intoxication of lived experience. Alfred North Whitehead Victor Lowe, 2020-03-24 Originally published in 1985, the second volume of Victor Lowe's definitive work on Alfred North Whitehead completes the biography of one of the twentieth century's most influential yet least understood philosophers. In 1910, Whitehead abruptly ended his thirty-year association with Trinity College of Cambridge and moved to London. The intellectual and personal restlessness that precipitated this move ultimately led Whitehead, at the age of sixty-three, to settle in America and change the focus of his work from mathematics to philosophy. Volume 2 of Alfred North Whitehead: The Man and His Work follows Whitehead's journey to the United States and analyzes his expanding intellectual life. Although Whitehead wrote philosophy based on natural science while still in London, he began his most important work shortly after moving to Harvard in 1924. Science and the Modern World appeared in 1925, Religion in the Making in 1926, Symbolism in 1927, and Process and Reality in 1929. Discussing these and other important works, Lowe combines scholarly analysis with valuable insights gathered from Whitehead's friends and colleagues. Although Whitehead ordered that all his private papers be destroyed, Lowe was given access to letters the philosopher wrote to his son, North, and others. Never before published, the letters add a new personal dimension to Whitehead's life and thought. Photographs of the philosopher, his family, and associates provide an intimate look at a private and self-effacing man whose work has had a lasting impact on twentieth-century thought. Alfred Schutz and the Economists Bruce A. Pietrykowski, 1996
