Your Turn to Talk-- My Turn to Listen United States. Forest Service. Eastern Region. Task Force on Public Communication/Awareness, 1987 Advances in Internet, Data & Web Technologies Leonard Barolli, Fatos Xhafa, Nadeem Javaid, Evjola Spaho, Vladi Kolici, 2018-02-23 This book presents original contributions on the theories and practices of emerging Internet data and Web technologies and their applicability in businesses engineering and academia focusing on advances in the life cycle exploitation of data generated from the digital ecosystem data technologies that create value e g for businesses toward a collective intelligence approach The Internet has become the most proliferative platform for emerging large scale computing paradigms Among these data and web technologies are two of the most prominent paradigms and are found in a variety of forms such as data centers cloud computing mobile cloud and mobile Web services These technologies together create a digital ecosystem whose cornerstone is the data cycle from capturing to processing analyzing and visualizing The investigation of various research and development issues in this digital ecosystem are made more pressing by the ever increasing requirements of real world applications that are based on storing and processing large amounts of data The book is a valuable resource for researchers software developers practitioners and students interested in the field of data and web technologies Digital Geographies—Theory, Space, and Communities Abdul Shaban, 2025-01-02 This machine generated volume with chapter introductions by the human expert showcases how digital technologies are having deep transformative impacts on geographies and temporalities of social political economic and personal lives They are altering perceptions and physicality of space and time They are giving birth to digital communities and societies where distance remains of little significance Virtual spaces and ICT have disrupted state sovereignties often liquidating their physical national boundaries The rise of the digital economy shows that new important raw materials for the future are information rather than coal oil and minerals Digitalisation is also leading to several contradictory processes of

democratisation rising welfare of the citizens as well as surveillance peripheralisation and exclusion States are taking pride in digitalising their services to the citizens with massive consequences on the welfare of those facing digital divides As a departure to and in addition to the usual understanding of digitalisation society and space the present volume engages with some of the critical questions while reviewing existing literature What are the space relations of digital technologies What are the forms and consequences of changing physical space human relations to digital space human relations How is the sense of time and space changing with pervasive performatives of in real time and virtual realities or with perceptible or portable spaces In what ways does digitalisation relate to knowledge and power Why and how must we theorise the digitalisation led transformative processes of sociality materiality and their spatialities The book will be useful for teachers researchers and students engaged in this new area of digital geography especially in social science and its subfields of sociology economics political sciences anthropology psychology development studies policy studies social work urban studies and planning For the full picture the volume can be read in combination with its companion volume on Digital Geographies Urbanisation Economy and Modelling
