Communication Via Satellite A Vision In Retrospect:

Communication Via Satellite Delbert D. Smith, 1976 Communication via satellite ,1976 Commercial Utilization of Outer Space Hanneke Louise Van Traa-Engelman, 1993-10-14 This book assesses the present status of space activity regulation against the background of the progressive commercialization of outer space The basic legal framework for outer space activity was established during a time when space endeavour was still in its infancy and a critical reassessment of its principles therefore forms the basis of this publication The outcome of this analysis and the legal implications which result from applying it to practical space utilization yield an insight into the legal questions pertaining to space commercialization and its practical implementation Commercial Utilization of Outer Space will be of great interest to academics and practitioners in the field of space activities as well as to government policy makers in different sectors of space commercialization ranging from space transportation satellite communication and remote sensing to space insurance and manufacturing in outer space Wherever appropriate and feasible practical aspects have been dealt with against the background of present day realities and developments foreseen for the future Communication Via Satellite D D Smith, 1972-12 Legislating the War on Terror Benjamin Wittes, 2010-02-01 A Brookings Institution Press and the Hoover Institution and the Georgetown Center on National Security and the Law publication The events of September 11 and subsequent American actions irrevocably changed the political military and legal landscapes of U S national security Predictably many of the changes were controversial and abuses were revealed The United States needs a legal framework that reflects these new realities Legislating the War on Terror presents an agenda for reforming the statutory law governing this new battle balancing the need for security the rule of law and the constitutional rights that protect American freedom The authors span a considerable swath of the political spectrum but they all believe that Congress has a significant role to play in shaping the contours of America s confrontation with terrorism Their essays are organized around the major tools that the United States has deployed against al Qaeda as well as the legal problems that have arisen as a result Mark Gitenstein compares U S and foreign legal standards for detention interrogation and surveillance Matthew Waxman studies possible strategic purposes for detaining people without charging them while Jack Goldsmith imagines a system of judicially reviewed law of war detention Robert Chesney suggests ways to refine U S criminal law into a more powerful instrument against terrorism Robert Litt and Wells C Bennett suggest the creation of a specialized bar of defense lawyers for trying accused terrorists in criminal courts David Martin explores the relationship between immigration law and counterterrorism David Kris lays out his proposals for modernizing the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act Justin Florence and Matthew Gerke outline possible reforms of civil justice procedures in national security litigation Benjamin Wittes and Stuart Taylor Jr investigate ways to improve interrogation laws while clarifying the definition and limits of torture Kenneth Anderson argues for the protection of Rand's Role in the Evolution of Balloon and Satellite Observation Systems and Related U.S.

Space Technology Merton E. Davies, William Robert Harris, 1988 This history commemorates the 40th anniversary of The RAND Corporation 1948 1988 RAND research studies aided in development of concepts system requirements and development programs for space satellites operational in the 1960s RAND research in 1946 1954 emphasized reconnaissance missions for balloons and electro optical TV reconnaissance satellites with data relay Thereafter RAND proposed use of recoverable film storage satellite payloads with simple guidance systems so that reconnaissance satellites could aid in arms control verification when intercontinental ballistic missiles ICBMs were deployed In the 1950s RAND space technology studies dealt with scientific exploration of the moon and solar system satellites for weather forecasting and for mapping missile launch detection and technology applications for the civil space program of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Innovative studies of balloon reconnaissance platforms ICBMs uses of panoramic cameras for remote observation of earth and use of infrared satellites for missile launch warning resulted from researcher initiated studies

Retrospective Technology Assessment--1976 Joel Arthur Tarr, 1977 Technology and Culture, 2002 Beyond Sputnik and the Space Race Hugh R. Slotten, 2022-02-08 A fascinating account of how the United States established the first global satellite communications system to project geopolitical leadership during the Cold War On July 20 1969 the world watched spellbound as NASA astronaut Neil Armstrong stepped off the Apollo 11 lunar module to walk on the moon NASA estimated that 20 percent of the planet s population nearly 650 million people watched the moon landing footage which was made possible by the first global satellite communications system the International Telecommunications Satellite Organization or Intelsat In Beyond Sputnik and the Space Race Hugh R Slotten analyzes the efforts of US officials especially during the Kennedy administration to establish this satellite communication system and open it to all countries of the world Locked in competition with the Soviet Union for both military superiority and international prestige President John F Kennedy overturned the Eisenhower administration s policy of treating satellite communications as simply an extension of traditionally regulated telecommunications Instead of allowing private communications companies to set up separate systems that would likely primarily serve major developed regions the new administration decided to take the lead in establishing a single world system Explaining how the East West Cold War conflict became increasingly influenced by North South tensions during this period Slotten highlights the growing importance of non aligned countries in Asia Latin America and Africa He also underscores the importance of a political economy of total Cold War in which many crucial aspects of US society became tied to imperatives of national security and geopolitical prestige Drawing on detailed archival records to examine the full range of decisionmakers involved in the Intelsat system Beyond Sputnik and the Space Race spotlights mid and lower level agency staff usually ignored by historians One of the few works to analyze the establishment of a major global infrastructure project this book provides an outstanding analytical overview of the history of global electronic communications from the mid nineteenth century to the present The Early Development of the Telecommunications Satellite Programme in
