The Compact History of the American Red Cross Charles Hurd, 1959      The Compact History of the American Red Cross Charles Hurd, 1959      The American Red Cross American National Red Cross, 1952      The Compact History of the American Red Cross. Illustrations by Gil Walker Charles HURD, 1959      Voluntary Organisations, the Red Cross, and the Features of Humanitarian Reconstruction in Western Europe after the World Wars Romain Fathi, Melanie Oppenheimer, Paul-André Rosental, 2025-06-11

This book explores the ways in which non government organisations have contributed to the reconstruction of and care for populations in Western European countries including but not limited to Belgium France Germany Italy and the United Kingdom in the aftermath of the World Wars Historical research on voluntary or non government organisations and their contribution to the reconstruction of states communities and humanitarian assistance to civilian populations following conflicts epidemics and disasters through the twentieth century has generally focused on non Western European countries except for Second World War II The historiography suggests that it is mostly in Eastern Europe the Middle East Asia and Africa that natural or man made disasters have occurred and that these places have been the focus for humanitarian assistance Rather the humanitarian enterprise is viewed through the binary of the Global North Global South those who save and those who are saved The chapters in this volume investigate how the Red Cross movement the League of Red Cross Societies the International Committee of Red Cross and individual national societies and other voluntary organisations such as the Rockefeller Foundation and a range of other international and local non government bodies have contributed to reconstruction in these countries at both national and local levels following times of crises such as wars civilian upheavals and disasters This book will appeal to scholars and students of history humanitarian studies international relations and social sciences The chapters in this book were originally published as special issues in European Review of History Revue europeenne d'histoire

Fund Raising in the United States , Fund raising in the United States is big business Some 350 000 nonprofit organizations employ an army of fund raisers all competing for their share employing the latest technology in computerized direct mail and telemarketing The American public is swamped with appeals on behalf of this cause or that as ever more ambitious financial goals are set Equally intense are demands on active citizens to staff fund raising drives a 1987 survey found that 48 percent of Americans engage in some sort of volunteer work Popular philanthropy financed by organized high pressure fund raising is uniquely American This classic history of fund raising in the United States first published in 1965 has been out of print for the last twenty two years despite continuing demand It covers the role of fund raising from the seventeenth century to the present with emphasis on mass secular fund raising in the twentieth century religious fund raising is excluded It documents techniques and problems that are central to the profession today as well as events and persons on the cutting edge As both Cutlip and Schwartz indicate in this new edition since 1964 the climate for philanthropy has been conditioned by two factors public policies and public perception

Reduction in federal grants to charities and changes in tax policies have increased the gap between needs and resources. Public perception is also a problem as the result of rampant scandals. Competition for the philanthropic dollar is keener than ever but the picture is not all gloomy. Schwartz outlines nine positive trends. Among them is increasing interest in philanthropic studies in many areas of academia including history, sociology, economics, public policy, behavioral sciences, social work, and American studies. There is also increasing interest overseas as American approaches to fund raising become an example for other nations.

European Powers in the First World War Spencer Tucker, 2018-12-07. First published in 1996. The First World War was the single most important event of the twentieth century. This volume concentrates on non-U.S. aspects of the conflict. Organized alphabetically, its more than 600 detailed entries offer information and insight on such subjects as the causes of the conflict, major battles and campaigns, weapons systems including military aviation, chemical warfare, the submarine and the tank, and the terms of the peace. Some 350 biographies provide information on the roles played in the conflict by generals, admirals, and civilian leaders. There are also biographies of individuals who were shaped by the war, such as Charles De Gaulle, Adolf Hitler, Benito Mussolini, and Joseph Stalin. Essays on each of the countries involved in the conflict, new appraisals of such subjects as military medicine and artillery tactics, and essays on such diverse subjects as art, literature, and music in the war. Each entry has references for additional reading, and a subject index provides easy access. The volume is an excellent reference source for scholar and neophyte alike.
