Aboriginal Art Collections:

Aboriginal Art Collections Susan Cochrane, 2001 Aboriginal art collections highlights from Australia's public museums and galleries is a survey of the indigenous collections of fourteen public museums and galleries in Australia Makers and Making Of Indigenous Australian Museum Collections Nicolas Peterson, Lindy Allen, Louise Hamby, 2008-08-16 This volume of original essays brings together for the first time histories of the making and of the makers of most of the major Indigenous Australian museum collections These collections are a principal source of information on how Aboriginal people lived in the past Knowing the context in which any collection was created the intellectual frameworks within which the collectors were working their collecting practices what they failed to collect and what Aboriginal people withheld is vital to understanding how any collection relates to the Aboriginal society from which it was derived Once made collections have had mixed fates some have become the jewel of a museum's holdings while others have been divided and dispersed across the world or retained but neglected The essays in this volume raise issues about representation institutional policies the periodisation of collecting intellectual history material culture studies Aboriginal culture and the idea of a collection

Aboriginal Art and Australian Society Laura Fisher, 2016-05-30 This book is an investigation of the way the Aboriginal art phenomenon has been entangled with Australian society's negotiation of Indigenous people's status within the nation Through critical reflection on Aboriginal art's idiosyncrasies as a fine arts movement its vexed relationship with money and its mediation of the politics of identity and recognition this study illuminates the mutability of Aboriginal art's meanings in different settings It reveals that this mutability is a consequence of the fact that a range of governmental activist and civil society projects have appropriated the art's vitality and metonymic power in national public culture and that Aboriginal art is as much a phenomenon of visual and commercial culture as it is an art movement Throughout these examinations Fisher traces the utopian and dystopian currents of thought that have crystallised around the Aboriginal art movement and which manifest the ethical conundrums that underpin the settler state condition Australian Aboriginal Art Marie Geissler, 2013-09-07 A fascinating journey into Aboriginal art collection Contemporary Aboriginal Art from the

Robert Holmes À Court Collection Anne Marie Brody, 1990 Survey of contemporary Aboriginal art featured in an international travelling exhibition Artists from various areas of the continent are included focusing on central and north western Australia and other areas of the top end Accompanied by 78 colour plates and substantial catalogue notes

Kluge-Ruhe Aboriginal Art Collection Kluge-Ruhe Aboriginal Art Collection, A History of Aboriginal Art in the Art Gallery of New South Wales Vanessa Russ, 2021-06-24 In this highly original study Vanessa Russ examines the gradual invention of Aboriginal art within the Art Gallery of New South Wales This process occurred as the social histories of Australia expanded and recognised Aboriginal people through wars and political shifts and as international organisations began placing pressure on nation states to expand diversify and respect multicultural perspectives This book explores a state

art institution as a case study to consider these complex narratives through a single history of Aboriginal art from early colonisation until today The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history museum studies and Indigenous studies

Indigenous Art Art Gallery of Western Australia, Brenda L.
