Abrahams Promise:

The Promises of God Kevin P. Conway, 2014-10-29 This study is the first to investigate why Paul makes exclusive use of epangelia for the divine pledge when referring to the Abrahamic covenant a usage of the term never found in the OT LXX After examining Jewish writings and Greek literature of the classical and Hellenistic periods this study demonstrates that Paul is rather unique in his exclusive use of the epangelia word group for the divine pledge and for using the term predominantly in reference to the Abrahamic promises This exclusive usage is further deemed unexpected in that the horkos and omnyimi lexemes are by far the terms most commonly associated with God s promises to Abraham in the OT the literature with which Paul was most familiar The study then moves to explain why Paul has chosen this path of discontinuity where it is argued that Paul s exclusive choice of epangelia for the divine promise is driven by its conceptual and linguistic correspondence with the euangelion one of the terms Paul adopted from the early church that forms the core of his ministry This conceptual word study of the divine promise will benefit Pauline scholars interested in Paul s use of the OT as well as his association of the euangelion and epangelia word groups
