Sussbauer,2013 Though attention to academic language is a key component of the Teacher Performance Assessment and the new Common Core Standards little has been researched regarding how pre service teachers build academic language knowledge and integrate it into their practice teaching experience This study focuses on the construction and delivery of academic language knowledge to pre service teachers in a one year immersion teacher preparation program It studies the pre service teachers use of academic language knowledge in their planning teaching and assessment throughout a practicum and clinical experience as well as their use of academic language knowledge as part of reflective practice Through analysis of classroom observation notes interviews and artifacts the data show that after receiving instruction on academic language concepts in the areas of content area terminology and language use reading and writing pre service teachers consciously integrated an attention to the terminology and language use of their content area into their practicum experience However faced with understanding themselves as teachers while navigating their mentor teacher s expectations learning the curriculum they are teaching and developing classroom management skills etc attention to academic language instruction in reading and writing was limited Recognition that content area terminology and language use is key to accessing content though influenced reflection on how content knowledge is accessed This conscious understanding of the role terminology and language use plays in accessing content knowledge opened the door for a deeper reflection on the role academic language plays in the classroom And during their post practicum clinical experience these pre service teachers were able to more knowledgeably reflect on how to integrate specific content area reading and writing instruction into curriculum These conclusions suggest that an introduction to academic language concepts and practices can reveal blind spots that enable pre service teachers to better address content area literacy in their future practice They also suggest that more focus in academic language instruction in teacher education programs could help pre service teachers more efficiently learn the complexities of their new role Academic Literacy Jill Lewis,2001 Designed for mid level developmental readers Academic Literacy combines a reading strategies handbook with discipline specific readings Part I Handbook for Reading and Study Strategies emphasizes active reading and the basics of comprehension topics main ideas supporting details patterns of organization understanding vocabulary and notetaking The seven chapters in Part II Discipline Specific Readings introduce students to readings typically encountered in seven different college disciplines
