Aarhus Convention An Implementation Guide:

The Aarhus Convention Stephen Stec, Susan Casey-Lefkowitz, Jerzy Jendrośka, United Nations. Economic Commission for Europe, Regional Environmental Center for Central and Eastern Europe, 2000 The Convention on Access to Information Public Participation in Decision making and Access to Justice in Environmental Matters Aarhus Convention was adopted at the Fourth Ministerial Conference Environment for Europe in Aarhus Denmark on 25 June 1998 Thirty nine countries and the European Community have since signed it The Aarhus is a new kind of environmental agreement It links environmental rights with human rights The Convention focuses on the interactions between the public and public authorities in a democratic context and it is creating a new process for public participation in the negotiation and implementation of international agreements This guide provides both a general overview and a detailed article by article analysis of the Convention The guide also analyses each provision of the Convention to clarify both the fixed obligations the obligations that allow for some flexibility and the options for implementation in each case The Aarhus Convention, 2000 The Aarhus Convention

Stephen Stec, Jonas Ebbesson, Helmut Gaugitsch, Marianne Miklau, Jerzy Jendrośka, Fiona Marshall, 2013 The Aarhus Convention United Nations, United Nations. Economic Commission for Europe, Regional Environmental Center for Central and Eastern Europe, 2013 Law and Practice on Public Participation in Environmental Matters Uzuazo Etemire, 2015-07-20 Public participation has become a recurring theme and a topical issue in the field of international environmental law with many multilateral environmental instruments calling on states to guarantee effectively the concept in their laws and practices This book focuses on public participation in environmental governance in terms of public access to environmental information and public participation in environmental decision making processes Drawing on the body of international best practice principles in environmental law and taking a comparative stance Uzuazo Etemire takes Nigeria as a key case evaluating its procedural laws and practices in relation to public access to information and participation in decision making in environmental matters In working to clarify and deepen understanding of the current status of environmental public participation rights in Nigeria the book addresses key issues in environmental governance for developing and transitional countries and the potential for public participation to improve the state of the environment and public wellbeing This book will be of great interest to undergraduate students as further reading and post graduate students academics researchers relevant government agencies and departments policy makers and NGOs in the fields of international environmental law environmental justice environmental natural resource management development studies and international finance

Environmental NGOs and Access to Justice before the CJEU Mario Pagano, 2025-11-13 This book tells a fascinating legal mobilisation story Analysing EU environmental litigation over the last 30 years it illustrates how the European environmental movement has patiently attempted and succeeded in expanding access to justice opportunities before the EU Courts This is despite the longstanding reluctance of the EU Court of Justice to soften its standing requirements for private applicants bringing cases directly to Luxembourg This research draws on both doctrinal analysis and qualitative methods of socio legal inquiry At its heart are interviews with key stakeholders environmental lawyers plaintiffs and activists which give an invaluable and innovative perspective on strategic litigation before the EU judiciary With the growing emergency posed by the climate crisis and resultant increased litigation this book makes a significant scholarly contribution to the study of environmental movements to our conceptualisation of legal mobilisation and to our understanding of the impact of litigation in European environmental law

Environmental Law Across Cultures Kirk W. Junker, 2019-12-09 This book provides a practical functional comparison among various institutions tools implementation practices and norms in environmental law across legal cultures This is a new approach that focuses on the act of comparison looking at legal practice from the ground up including the perspective of citizens Most literature on comparative environmental law either focuses on a two way comparison of state jurisdictions or simply juxtaposes environmental features of two or more state jurisdictions without engaging in any analysis of the comparison However this book treats legal cultures as the objects of comparison as it provides practical comparisons among various institutions tools and norms in environmental law The arrangement and organisation of the material reverses the more traditional presentation of comparative environmental law as a series of countries within which separate descriptions are respectively presented In this book the reader is presented with environmental legal themes with examples and case studies drawn from various cultures that are compared in order to help understand the theme Case studies draw on the authors experiences in a range of legal cultures including in Australia Brazil China Chile Ethiopia Germany India Nigeria Slovakia and the USA The comparative nature of the book allows domestic professionals to develop skills to enable them to understand and advocate broader contexts for clients and helps students become more aware of specific legal systems while questioning why their own system functions or does not function as it does The book is aimed at advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students of environmental law as well as researchers and practitioners

The European Atomic Energy Community in the European Union Context Ilina

Cenevska, 2016-04-26 Ilina Cenevska s new book The European Atomic Energy Community in the European Union Context The Outsider Within explores the unique nature of the Euratom Community as an entity that establishes a supranational regulation in the civil nuclear industry which while formally belonging to the European Union construct is coincidentally somewhat kept outside the mainstream developments in the Union The book surveys Euratom s status as an outsider within the European Union through the correlation between the principles and mechanisms particular to the functioning of the Euratom legal framework and those devised under the Union framework stricto sensu focusing on two specific areas nuclear safeguards and health and safety in the nuclear domain

Human Rights and Environmental Protection Marek Prityi, 2024-11-15 This book explores the complex relationship between human rights and environmental protection It analyzes the concept of environmental procedural rights from a comparative perspective in the European Union India and China Arguing the need to apply a holistic approach which acknowledges the interlinkages between democracy environmental protection and climate change it examines both theoretical and practical dimensions of the topic with case studies drawn from empirical research The work highlights the important role of environmental procedural rights at the intersection of environmental law and human rights emphasizing the need for effective channels of communication between citizens and public authorities The study calls for the taking into account of non binding recommendations such as the Maastricht Recommendations on Promoting Effective Public Participation in Environmental Matters for developing public participation procedures in a manner that allows authorities to tailor these to the needs and situations of marginalized people The book will be a valuable resource for academics researchers and policy makers working in the areas of environmental law international human rights law and transnational law and governance

Shaping Internet Governance: Regulatory Challenges Rolf H. Weber, 2010-03-10 The information society is a key issue in everyday life and a phenomenon encompassing social cultural economic and legal facets Currently an information society's legal framework is gradually crystallizing under the newly introduced term of Internet governance During the last few years intensive discussions about the contents of Internet governance have addressed manifold aspects of a possible regulatory regime In light of the general comprehension that an international treaty structure is missing and that self regulation as a normative model does not suffice in all respects new architectural and constitutional theories have been developed furthermore the international body of the Internet Governance Forum IGF came to life Notwithstanding the available literature on IGF however a thorough and systematic study shedding light on the main topics of Internet governance such as legitimacy transparency accountability and participation and on the key regulatory issues for example critical Internet resources access protection of civil liberties human rights realization of security safety and privacy standards as well as the overcoming of the digital divide from a legal perspective is not yet at hand The present publication aims at discussing these legal challenges This book has benefited from many inputs and encouragements from colleagues that I am deeply grateful for In particular I am indebted to the very meaningful discussions and valuable support in the preparation of the publication by my search assistants Lic iur Mirin a Grosz and Lic iur Romana Weber to Lic iur

Standardizing Individual Environmental Protection as a Human Right Anna Ulvsbäck, 2004 Environmental Protection of Urban and Suburban Settlements, 2007 West Virginia Law Review, 2013 Human Rights and the Environment Svitlana Kravchenko, John E. Bonine, 2008 Increasingly environmental rights are being recognized as enforceable human rights both substantive and procedural Environmental law can no longer be viewed merely as a matter for policy choices in legislation This new casebook shows how international and national court cases in Europe Africa Asia and the Americas have begun to interpret treaties national constitutions and human rights legislation to protect the environment through the recognition of rights For the first time these rich developments are brought together in a book suitable as a primary text for classes and seminars Burnett-Hall on Environmental Law Richard Burnett-Hall, Brian L. Jones, 2009 This supplement adds more recent material to The Intellectual Property Citator 1982 96 a reference instrument enabling the practitioner to trace and locate IP case law by name number or subject matter The supplement includes all reported cases up to 2001 New York University Environmental Law Journal, 2003 EU Environmental Policy Handbook Stefan Scheuer, 2005 The publication of this handbook will be interesting for everyone who will learn what the EU has done to protect the environment and to improve the quality of life in Europe and what can be achieved in future Well structured concise and forward looking the handbook describes the history and current status of EU environmental law but also looks to the future by analysing the strengths and weaknesses of the actions taken so far Sustainable Development in Europe, North America and Central Asia, 2002 Casebook on EU Environmental Law Ludwig Krämer, 2002-08-30 This book comments on fifty key judgments which the Court of Justice and the Court of First Instance have given on European Community environmental law For each judgment the facts and procedures are described followed by an extract of the essential parts of the judgment and a commentary which places the judgment in its legal environmental and political context and develops the lines of reasoning of the Court The fifty cases selected cover all substantive and procedural aspects of Community environmental law as regards the provisions of the EC Treaty cases 1 to 9 horizontal problems cases 10 to 18 water and air cases 19 to 25 products and noise cases 26 to 32 nature protection cases 33 to 38 waste management cases 39 to 45 and procedural questions cases 46 to 50 Particular emphasis is laid on commenting on recent judgments thus the oldest case discussed dates from 1991 and 43 of the 50 judgments date from 1996 or later The book provides a clear insight into the jurisdiction of the European Courts it will be of particular use to practitioners of national and Community environmental law researchers law students and administrators It is written in a comprehensible style which also makes it a useful tool for non lawyers who deal with European Community environmental law and policy
