Robert Safford Hale

Abby's Twin:

Abby's Twin (The Baby-Sitters Club #104) Ann M. Martin, 2015-05-26 Trying to cheer up her twin Anna who has been diagnosed with scoliosis Abby fears that the condition is driving them apart when Anna seems to not want Abby's help and begins to do things on her own Abby's Twin, Searching for Abby Barbara Taylor Blomquist, 2012-04 Searching for Abby is a tale of one woman's quest for self-knowledge for an identity. In Abby Lang's case, this quest is complicated by the fact that she was adopted at four months of age and has no knowledge of her birth family. Abby leads a life that by most accounts would appear to be very fulfilling. She earns a college degree, marries her college sweetheart, and lives with Matt and their three children in the house of her dreams. Yet all along the way, uncertainties about her own identity and the nature of her birth family prevent her from feeling truly happy and satisfied. Abby's discovery that their new neighbor Kathryn had worked for the adoption agency that placed Abby propels Abby on a search for the truth about her birth family. This search carries her on a whirlwind of emotions, and in due course, the discovery of her birth family's history. All, however, is not as it first appears. What new insights will be revealed? How will they change Abby? Will Searching for Abby finally lead to the peace and fulfillment that she seeks?

Saint Emperor of Soul and Martial Land Yan KongKong, 2020-05-15 In the Soul Martial Continent, the soul beasts were revered. The strength of a soul beast often determined a person's future, a person's life, and death. The weak were mediocre people who were bullied. When the strong were angered, blood would flow like rivers.

Elemental Ecocriticism Jeffrey Jerome Cohen, Lowell Duckert, 2015-12-23 For centuries, it was believed that all matter was composed of four elements: earth, air, water, and fire, in promiscuous combination, bound by love and pulled apart by strife. Elemental theory offered a mode of understanding materiality that did not center the cosmos around the human. Outgrown as a science, the elements are now what we build our houses against. Their renunciation has fostered only estrangement from the material world. The essays collected in Elemental Ecocriticism show how elemental materiality precipitates new engagements with the ecological. Here, the classical elements reveal the vitality of supposedly inert substances: mud, water, earth, air, chemical processes, fire, and natural phenomena, as well.

as the promise in the abandoned and the unreal ether phlogiston spontaneous generation Decentering the human this volume provides important correctives to the idea of the material world as mere resource Three response essays meditate on the connections of this collaborative project to the framing of modern day ecological concerns A renewed intimacy with the elemental holds the potential of a more dynamic environmental ethics and the possibility of a reinvigorated materialism
