

Abraham Rattner

Robert Henkes

Abraham Rattner:

Abraham Rattner Abraham Rattner, 1974 Abraham Rattner is one of America's leading Expressionist painters. Yet his vision is so personal, so uniquely his own, that one cannot place him in any rigid historical period or mode of creation. He seeks to depict the human spirit, and his work becomes as universal as humanity itself. In an age that dehumanizes, Rattner paints our highest hopes and aspirations, as well as our tragedy and despair. Life must be confronted, dealt with, absorbed; it must be felt. His paintings thrust life before us, and we are richer for having experienced them. Book jacket flap Abraham Rattner

Abraham Rattner Abraham Rattner, Kennedy Galleries, 1986 Abraham Rattner Kennedy Galleries, 1970 The Spiritual Art of Abraham Rattner Robert Henkes, 1998 The Spiritual Art of Abraham Rattner explores for the first time the life of an artist who captured his tremendous spirituality through his work. Rattner searched for a philosophy of oneness as he depicted religious scenes from both the Old and New Testaments, as well as some secular scenes. He struggled with his own life as he compared himself with Abraham or the crucified Christ. His prayerful life was dominated by a hope for peace and an abhorrence for war and the suffering it carries with it. Henkes examines the presence of Rattner's ideas and views in his work, finding his suffering as well as his deep spirituality and love for humanity as expressed through the dominant figures of St. Francis of Assisi and Moses. Recommended for all students of art and religion. Abraham Rattner Abraham Rattner, 1997

Examining the work of such influential artists as Mark Rothko, Max Weber, and Ruth Weisberg, Baigell directly confronts their Jewish identity as a religious, cultural, and psychological component of their lives and explores the way in which this influence is reflected in their art. Drawing upon their common heritage, Baigell reveals the different ways these artists responded to the Great Immigration, the Depression, the Holocaust, the founding of the state of Israel, and the rise of feminism. Each artist's varied Jewish experiences have contributed to the creation of a visual language and subject matter that reflect both Jewish assimilation and Jewish continuity in ways that inform modern Jewish history and changes in present-day America. Offering a fresh examination of well-known artists as well as long-overdue attention to lesser-known artists, Baigell's incisive observations are indispensable to our understanding of the Jewish themes in these artists' work. Written in a lively and spirited prose, this book is compulsory reading for those interested in modern American art and Jewish studies. Abraham Rattner Abraham Rattner, 1966

Abraham Rattner, a Retrospective Abraham Rattner, Kennedy Galleries, 1975 Abraham Rattner 1965, 1965 The Crucifixion in American Art Robert Henkes, 2003-01-01 The crucifixion of Christ has been richly portrayed by countless artists for hundreds of years but it was European Renaissance styles and painters such as Kurz Benjamin West and John Valentine Haidt that first informed American artists of the possibilities for depicting the crucifixion This work features artists living and working in America from the mid 18th to the 21st century who depicted the crucifixion of Christ in their artwork The 19th century saw painters like Julian Russell Story John Singer Sargent Vassili Verestchagin and Fred Holland break from the Renaissance tradition of the 18th century to begin a religious art revolution The 20th century saw painters like Thomas Eakins and George Bellows continuing the traditions of the 19th until the Realist style became dominant which lasted until the latter part of the century and the rise of Abstract Expressionism and a number of experimental styles such as Op Pop and Super realism
