Beaches J. Hardisty, 1990-12-31 This book places research into worldwide beach environments in its geomorphological context Having introduced the systems approach to environmental modelling and identified the groups of processes operating on beaches the text is structured in five parts the first three sections provide a sequential account of the effects of these processes on the beach system part four focuses on theory relevant to landform stability then reviews existing empirical analytical and numerical models and the final section introduces a computer model and shows its application to the process functions developed earlier

Handbook of Coastal Processes and Erosion Paul D. Komar, 2018-02-06 The objective of this book is to focus on the physical processes that cause coastal erosion Many scientists and engineers have focused their research on the entire range of physical processes from the waves and the currents in the nearshore to the response of the beach via sand transport resulting in a changing coastal morphology Of these many processes this book focuses only on those which directly relate the generation of coastal erosion Some chapters deal exclusively with the physical processes while others provide examples of erosion problems although most of the chapter topics have clear implications for issues of coastal zone management these issues are not belaboured as several other books are already available in this area The objective is to provide state of the art presentation of the science of coastal erosion processes

Analysis of Coastal Sediment Transport Processes from Wrightsville Beach to Fort Fisher, North Carolina T. C. Winton,1981 A comprehensive engineering analysis of the coastal sediment transport processes along a 42 kilometer segment of the North Carolina shoreline from Wrightsville Beach to Fort Fisher is presented Included in the analysis is an interpretation of the littoral processes longshore transport and the behavior and success of beach nourishment projects at Wrightsville Beach and Carolina Beach North Carolina The historical position of the MLW MSL and MHW contours relative to a fixed base line is plotted for the period between 1964 and 1975 An equivalent volumetric erosion or accretion between successive surveys is determined by multiplying the average excursion distance of the contours by a constant of proportionality The plots of excursion distance versus time for the MLW MSL and MHW contours also show the time response of the beach fills This response is described by a mathematical function The alongshore components of wave induced energy flux are also determined within the study area through wave refraction analysis This information together with the information on volumetric change is used in a sediment budget analysis to determine the coefficient of alongshore sediment transport and the inlet trapping characteristics Author Tidal Lands Alfred Edward Carey, Francis Wall Oliver, 1918 "Code of Massachusetts regulations, 1997" ,1997 Archival snapshot of entire looseleaf Code of Massachusetts Regulations held by the Social Law Library of Massachusetts as of January 2020 "Code of Massachusetts regulations, 2007" ,2007 Archival snapshot of entire looseleaf Code of Massachusetts Regulations held by the Social Law Library of Massachusetts as of January 2020 "Code of Massachusetts regulations, 1998" ,1998 Archival snapshot of entire looseleaf Code of Massachusetts Regulations held by the Social Law Library of Massachusetts as of January 2020 "Code of Massachusetts regulations, 2011" ,2011 Archival snapshot of entire looseleaf Code of Massachusetts Regulations held by the Social Law Library of Massachusetts as of January 2020
