Catholic Theology Facing The Future:

Catholic Theology Facing the Future Dermot A. Lane, 2003 Here is a collection of vibrant essays from a conference at St Michael's College in Vermont that reflects on the past present and future of Catholic theology Contributors include the leading names in scripture and moral and systematic theology Dermot Lane on the foundational roles of anthropology imagination and memory in the performance of Christian theology Alice Laffey on the past and present developments in biblical scholarship Raymond Collins on the ecumenical progress over the last forty years in the study of the New Testament Michael J Fahey on trends in systematic theology since 1965 Philip S Keane on the accomplishments and challenges facing moral theology Kevin Irwin on the Christocentric character of liturgical and sacramental theology Catholic Theology Facing the Future Dermot A. Lane, 2003-03-30 The Moslem Faces the Future Thomas Henry Powers Sailer, 1926

American Catholics Face the Future Donald J. Thorman, 1968 Education Faces the Future, 1943 The Catholic Periodical and Literature Index, 2004 Israel, the Church and the World Religions Face the Future, 1984 Faith in the Millennium Stanley E. Porter, Michael A. Hayes, David Tombs, 2001-02-01 At the close of one millennium and the beginning of a new one this conference volume reflects on the past and looks forward to a new era in terms of the development of faith Although most of the papers in the volume address issues concerning Christian faith the volume is not confined to such a perspective since the concept of faith is treated here in an encompassing and broad manner The historical perspective reaches back several millennia addresses contemporary issues of economics and justice as they have a bearing on faith and looks to the future as a new millennium presents its own problems and potential opportunities The Harvard Theological Review, 1908 The Future of Interreligious Dialogue Cohen, Charles L., Knitter, Paul F., Rosenhagen, Ulrich, 2017-09-14 Morality's Future and the Transcendent Celia E. Deane-Drummond, 2026-01-22 This is the third and final volume of a three part work exploring the evolution of wisdom understood broadly to include both practical wisdom and humanity's capacity to connect with the divine The first volume was primarily concerned with interspecies relationships and the core moral capacities of justice compassion and practical wisdom arguing in the light of that analysis for the need for a different theoretical framing of the moral life based on evolutionary theological and philosophical arguments The second volume considered the darker side of human nature the tendency for different vices and their evolutionary trajectories This third volume focuses on humanity's capacity to reach for the transcendent within an evolutionary context and in dialogue with those moral capabilities associated with the spiritual life including the theological virtues of faith hope and charity alongside gratitude wisdom humility grace and joy The evolution of compassion is now situated within the context of the development of humanity's capacity for mercy This book weaves together and interrogates philosophical concepts especially those inspired by the work of Paul Ricoeur alongside moral psychology and the classic moral theology of the virtues in the work of Thomas Aquinas considered in dialogue with the work of other theologians such as Karl Rahner This volume is therefore concerned with the fundamental question of what difference the spiritual life makes to human capacities to do good in the light of what we know about our evolutionary past and current psychological theories while also providing a critique of the latter through theological and philosophical epistemologies It is relevant to the broader question of how change for the good might be possible in human behaviour especially in the light of the serious global eco social challenges facing humanity in the twenty first century
