House of Commons - Communities and Local Government Committee: The Work Of The Regulation Committee Of The Homes And Communities Agency - HC 130 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Communities and Local Government Committee, 2013-09-11 Despite acknowledging that a handful of providers give him concern the Regulator is reluctant to give them lower financial viability ratings fearing that doing so might trigger an upward re pricing of their debt Instead the Regulator uses governance ratings to signal concerns about financial viability This practice lacks openness and should stop and accurate financial viability ratings should be published The fear of triggering a re pricing also prevents the Regulator from using many of his statutory powers preferring to adopt informal approaches instead This lacks transparency and risks too close a relationship developing between the Regulator and providers The devolved administrations housing regulators not to mention regulators in other sectors must encounter similar dilemmas The Regulator should work with them to see how they have addressed his concern that the use of statutory powers could prove counter productive The Committee s concerns are underlined by the case of Cosmopolitan Housing Group which came close to insolvency in 2012 The Regulator only lowered its financial viability rating for Cosmopolitan in December 2012 despite the fact that he had been monitoring the situation for months and the possibility of insolvency had been raised in the media two months previously The report also raises concerns about how effectively the Regulator is discharging his remit for consumer regulation Noting that of 111 complaints related to consumer standards referred to the Regulator no case of serious consumer detriment was found the Report calls for an annual external check to be carried out to provide assurance that the Regulator is discharging his duties effectively

House of Commons - Welsh Affairs Committee: The Impact of Changes to Housing Benefit in Wales - HC 159 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Welsh Affairs Committee,2013-10-17 The costs of housing benefit currently makes up more than a tenth of the UK Government s expenditure on welfare with costs forecast to reach 25 billion by 2014 15 The Government s policy on under occupation came into force in April 2013 and it is estimated that 40 000 tenants in Wales will be affected representing 46% of working age housing benefit claimants living in the social rented sector This is the highest proportion of any region in Great Britain There could therefore be a shortage of one and two bedroom homes in Wales to re house everyone who wants to downsize If local authorities are struggling to find alternative smaller accommodation for Government should undertake a speedy review of this policy It is also increasingly urgent for the Welsh Government to continue with its house building programme with a particular focus on the building of smaller sized properties obviously this is a long term solution that would require additional resources If no social housing is available tenants may need to move to the private rented sector and private rental costs would need to be monitored The costs of moving disabled households who require adaptations are also a concern There may be a case for exempting disabled households from the policy The Government s proposal to pay housing benefit direct to social tenants under Universal Credit may result in some tenants being unable to manage their rent payments The Committee recommends that the Government provide for housing benefit to be paid direct to the landlords in certain circumstances for example after a specified period of non payment
