An Introduction to Ministry Ian S. Markham, Oran E. Warder, 2016-01-19 An Introduction to Ministry is a comprehensive and ecumenical introduction to the craft of ministry for ministers, pastors, and priests that make up the mainline denominations in the United States. Ecumenically focused, it offers a grounded account of ministry covering areas such as vocation, congregational leadership, and cultivation of skills for an effective ministry. Covers the key components of the M Div curriculum, offering a map and guide to the central skills and issues in training. Explores the areas of vocation, skills for ministry, and issues around congregational leadership. Each topic ends with an annotated bibliography providing an indispensable gateway to further study. Helps students understand both the distinctive approach of their denomination and the relationship of that approach to other mainline denominations. Advocates and defends a generous understanding of the Christian tradition in its openness and commitment to broad conversation. Ten Best Stewardship Sermons Arthur S. Davenport, 1963

The Gospel of Climate Skepticism Robin Globus Veldman, 2019-10-22 Why are white evangelicals the most skeptical major religious group in America regarding climate change? Previous scholarship has pointed to cognitive factors such as conservative politics, anti-science attitudes, aversion to big government, and theology. Drawing on qualitative fieldwork, The Gospel of Climate Skepticism reveals the extent to which climate skepticism and anti-environmentalism have in fact become embedded in the social world of many conservative evangelicals. Rejecting the common assumption that evangelicals' skepticism is simply a side effect of political or theological conservatism, the book further shows that between 2006 and 2015, leaders and pundits associated with the Christian Right widely promoted skepticism as the biblical position on climate change. The Gospel of Climate Skepticism offers a compelling portrait of how, during a critical period of recent history, political and religious interests intersected to prevent evangelicals from offering a unified voice in support of legislative action to address climate change.

The Leadership Labyrinth Judson Edwards, 2005 The leadership paradox: the harder you try to control a group, the less control you will have. The calendar paradox: the busier you are, the less you will accomplish. The relationship paradox: the people who like you most will be the ones you try least to please. The anxiety paradox: the less you worry about the church, the better it will do. The stewardship paradox: the more you preach about money, the less you will receive. The preaching paradox: the more you preach, the less you will have to say. The negotiation paradox: the most serious issues cannot be handled seriously. The learning paradox: you will only learn more of what you already know The power paradox the weakest people in the church tend to wield the most power The issues paradox the issues you most want to push are beyond pushing The decision paradox people seldom have to choose between right and wrong The influence paradox the most powerful people in your life will not be powerful people The controversy paradox the issue you are arguing about is not the issue at all The confrontation paradox direct confrontation seldom confronts the problem The intimacy paradox distance often helps people more than closeness The ministry paradox the more you try to help people the more helpless people become the helper's paradox the best way to help others is to take care of yourself The organization paradox the more organized the church becomes the less it accomplishes The problems paradox problems are not really problems at all The time paradox the less important the issue the more time you will spend on it The attitude paradox only pastors who are having fun can seriously proclaim the gospel The Church of England Yearbook, 2005 A Sourcebook for Stewardship Sermons James E.
