Landsburg, 2007-04-17 A witty and razor sharp look at the many ways our individually rational decisions can combine into some truly weird collective results and some hilarious and serious ways to fix just about everything Economics is no longer the dismal science dreaded by college freshmen In recent years a band of economists has broken away from the charts and graphs of college textbooks and begun to explain ordinary behavior in plain and often entertaining English Steve Landsburg was one of the first of the new breed in his book The Armchair Economist and long running Everyday Economics column in Slate magazine Now he is back and more provocative than ever In More Sex Is Safer Sex Landsburg shows how the rational behavior of each one of us when combined together produces the often bizarre seemingly irrational behavior of crowds We all stand up at the ballpark so none of us can see We avoid casual sex from fear of disease and we thereby make sex more dangerous Things really get interesting when Landsburg suggests ways to change the rules and game the system Why not charge juries if a convicted felon is exonerated Why not have each member of Congress represent a national subset of voters
