

THE STREET & THE EDGE

The 'Street' is a linear, open and a continuous linking element bound on either side by either a continuous facade or by a series of individual buildings with gaps in between.

The 'Edge' is a linear element that is a boundary between the two domains or entities - public and private. The edge may be barriers more or less penetrable which close one region off from another, or they may be seams, lines along which two domains are related and joined together.
