Gleason, 1991 Traces the development of the lighthouse system in New England and describes individual lighthouses and their current status Lighthouses of Hampton Roads: A History Benjamin H. Trask, 2023 For nearly two centuries the beacons of light stations guided vessels through the deceptively hazardous waters in and around Hampton Roads Eleven light stations have dotted the southeastern coast of Virginia since the days of the early republic Starting with Alexander Hamilton s establishment of the federal lighthouse service their story meanders through the American Civil War Reconstruction the Second World War and beyond tracing the development of maritime commerce in the region The keepers themselves were mostly white men from Virginia or North Carolina however caretakers also included immigrants women and formerly enslaved men For almost two hundred years these stalwarts maintained the beacons that guided vessels through these waters They also rescued those in peril Far from being isolated their collective lives were intertwined with the events and innovations that shaped the nation Local historian Benjamin Trask tells their stories A History of South Carolina Lighthouses John Hairr, 2014-02-25 Before radar depth finders and satellite guided navigation long before the seafloor was charted with scientific precision mariners relied on lighthouses to approach a coastline safely South Carolina s history with lighthouses goes back nearly two and a half centuries At Cape Romain a windmill was converted into a lighthouse St Philip s Church in Charleston was converted into a beacon for seafarers to aid navigation to the Holy City With such a long and storied past the story of South Carolina's lighthouses is inseparable from its maritime history. Join author John Hairr as he recounts the fascinating history of these beacons that have shone above the shores of the Palmetto State. Death & Lighthouses on the Great Lakes: A History of Murder and Misfortune Dianna Higgs Stampfler, 2022-02 The author of Michigan's Haunted Lighthouses shares tales of disaster and misfortune on the Great Lakes. Losing one's life while tending to a Great Lakes lighthouse sadly wasn't such an unusual occurrence. Death by murder, suicide, or other tragic causes while rare were not unheard of. Two keepers on Lake Superior's Grand Island disappeared one early summer day in 1908; their decomposed remains found weeks later. A newly hired and some say depressed keeper on Pilot Island in Wisconsin's Door County slit his own throat after a consultation with a local butcher about the location of the jugular vein. A smallpox outbreak in the late 1890s led to the tragic death of a lighthouse hired hand on South Bass Island in Lake Erie. Join author Dianna Stampfler as she uncovers the facts and debunks some fiction behind some of the Great Lakes' darkest lighthouse tales.

Lighthouses of the World Ebbe Almquist, 1999-10 From the first primitive lights in Near East and Mediterranean harbors to today's computer-driven optical devices, the lighthouse has been more than just a beacon of light. Many well-known lighthouses are documented in this lavish volume. Their historical and technical details, as well as their topographical perspectives, offer the reader insights into their forms, environment, and use. Early History of Lighthouses with a Short Account of Lighthouse Legislation in the United Kingdom; and Excerpts from Existing Acts Affecting the Commissioners of Northern Lighthouses Thomas R. Tait, 1902 Beacons of the Sea John Bunker, Lighthouses William John Hardy, 1895 Keepers of the Lights Robert Carse, 1969 Beacon on the Rock Peter Williams, 2001 Beacon on the Rock tells the history of the lighthouse, including stories of human skill, endeavour, and indefatigable resolve in the face of the physical, emotional, and mental obstacles of the ocean. A Natural History of Lighthouses John A. Love, 2015 The natural history contribution of keepers in the lighthouse story, as well as the history of lighthouses and the Stevenson dynasty.

Lighthouses of Hampton Roads Benjamin H. Trask, 2023-07-17 For nearly two centuries, the beacons of light stations guided vessels through the deceptively hazardous waters in and around Hampton Roads. Eleven light stations have dotted the southeastern coast of Virginia since the days of the early republic. Starting with Alexander Hamilton's establishment of the federal lighthouse service, their story meanders through the American Civil War, Reconstruction, the Second World War, and beyond, tracing the development of maritime commerce in the region. The keepers themselves were mostly white men from Virginia or North Carolina; however, caretakers also included immigrants, women, and formerly enslaved men. For almost two hundred years, these stalwarts maintained the beacons that guided vessels through these waters. They also rescued those in peril. Far from being isolated, their collective lives were intertwined with the events and innovations that shaped the nation. Local historian Benjamin Trask tells their stories. America's Lighthouses Francis Ross Holland, 1972
