A History Of Thought And Practice In Educational Administration:

A History of Thought and Practice in Educational Administration Roald Fay Campbell, 1987 Resources in Education, 1987 Teaching Educational Leadership in Muslim Countries Eugenie A. Samier, Eman S. ElKaleh, 2019-04-10 This book explores the Islamic tradition and Muslim contexts for educational administration and leadership It addresses the teaching of educational administration and leadership from an Islamic perspective by raising issues of globalised educational administration and leadership teaching as it applies in Muslim contexts that vary by culture and social institutions The book proposes alternative approaches and demonstrates that Islamic traditions have a strong foundation upon which to build in the field and are compatible with many aspects of Western theory and practices provided that sufficient modifications and adaptations are made The book focuses on postgraduate curricula and pedagogy drawing on a range of theoretical foundations and approaches that are culturally and jurisdictionally appropriate in a number of Muslim countries As such it contributes to an emerging specialisation in international and comparative educational administration and leadership that is oriented towards a broader and more diverse set of perspectives particularly from the non Western world The History of Educational Administration Viewed Through Its Textbooks Thomas E. Glass, 2004-01-01 The History of Educational Administration Viewed Through Its Texts provides the reader a history of the development of the professional field of educational administration From the Common School Era of the 1840s through the Era of Accountability in 2000 leaders of the profession wrote textbooks to both inform and instruct those desiring to follow in their footsteps Historical leaders such as Elwood Cubberley George Strayer George Counts and Jesse Sears are identified and the ways in which their work influenced the profession and the public schools is examined The various management themes running through the practice of educational administration over a 150 year period are also discussed Among these themes is the administrator as a philosopher and manager of virtue scientific manager executive transformational leader instructional leader in a time of high stakes accountability The schools of thought affecting the preparation of education administrators is also discussed in the framework of general educational administration textbooks The early textbooks written by the grandfathers were compendiums of best practice later eclipsed in the 1960s by a theory movement to make practice more scientific This new movement was based on research in the social and behavioral sciences The theory movement presently seems to be giving way to a return of textbooks being compendiums of best practice based on professional standards Lastly an exploration of the development and impact the specialization of the field has had on both textbooks and practice is included The splintering of the educational administration professorate into finance law policy personnel and other specialties has had a profound impact on textbooks and practice The development of standards dictating certification and licensing has also been influenced by specialization as opposed to general preparation This book is a must for university libraries and every doctoral student writing a dissertation in education The History of Education Ellwood Patterson Cubberley, 2019-12-06 In The History of Education Ellwood Patterson Cubberley presents a comprehensive analysis of educational systems from antiquity to the modern era tracing the evolution of teaching methods institutional frameworks and philosophical underpinnings Written with clarity and rigor Cubberley employs a chronological approach examining diverse cultures and their contributions to educational theory The book s literary style balances narrative engagement with scholarly detail making it both accessible and informative mirroring the precepts of the early 20th century educational reform movement which sought to establish a more systematic understanding of educational practices Ellwood Patterson Cubberley was an influential educator and scholar whose work in educational administration profoundly impacted early 20th century pedagogical practices Having served as a professor at Stanford University Cubberley sought to bridge the gap between theory and practice in education His experiences as a school administrator and his commitment to reforms in teacher training influenced his perspective making him a vital figure in the progressive education movement His scholarly authority shines through in this work which reflects his conviction in education s transformative potential The History of Education is a compelling read for educators historians and policy makers alike illuminating the interconnectedness of educational practices across time and cultures Readers seeking a profound understanding of the foundations of modern education will appreciate Cubberley s insights and the contextual backdrop he provides making this book an essential addition to any educational scholar s library In this enriched edition we have carefully created added value for your reading experience A succinct Introduction situates the work s timeless appeal and themes The Synopsis outlines the central plot highlighting key developments without spoiling critical twists A detailed Historical Context immerses you in the era s events and influences that shaped the writing A thorough Analysis dissects symbols motifs and character arcs to unearth underlying meanings Reflection questions prompt you to engage personally with the work s messages connecting them to modern life Hand picked Memorable Quotes shine a spotlight on moments of literary brilliance Interactive footnotes clarify unusual references historical allusions and archaic phrases for an effortless more informed read

Political Philosophy, Educational Administration and Educative Leadership
Reynold Macpherson, 2013-10-01 In this book Reynold Macpherson initiates a politically critical theory of educative leadership as a fresh line of inquiry in the practice research and theory of educational administration and educational leadership Divided into four parts the book introduces the sub discipline of political philosophy to the field of educational administration management and leadership It does this by clarifying the knowledge domain of each and identifying how four political ideologies specifically pragmatism communitarianism communicative rationalism and egalitarian liberalism have primarily informed and surreptitiously provided contestable justifications for power in the development of practice research and theory in the field of study The book goes on to offer three case studies illustrating how political philosophy can be used to interpret how people become leaders and administrators of educational institutions and systems Additional case studies then demonstrate how crises in governance in educational institutions and systems can be analyzed and improvements made using the tools of political philosophy The final part uses the sub discipline to critique the author s decades of research into educative leadership and concludes the book by both establishing the relativity of politically critical critique and the ideology it favours neo pragmatism Political Philosophy Educational Administration and Educative Leadership will provide practitioners researchers and theorists in educational administration management and leadership with a deeper appreciation of power by formally introducing them to the assumptions limits and tools of political philosophy
