Avantgarde is an artistic movement which followed Modernism and can be considered an early phase of Post Modernism The Avantgarde can be split into two phases The Historical Avantgarde which began prior to World War II and the Neo Avant garde which followed it The Neo Avantgarde can be classified as a period of experimentation between the 1950s and 1960s by practitioners such as Jerzy Grotowski and Richard Schechner Avant garde Theatre defines the ideology as a philosophical grouping linked by a specific attitude to western society a particular aesthetic approach and the aim of transforming the nature of theatrical performance Innes 4 The defining aspects of the Neo Avantgarde are the interconnections in ideologies of the practitioners that dominated the movement and the rejection of western conventions and beliefs This is explored through the actors physical presence spectator performer dynamics the links between theatre and ritual catharsis and the aspiration to reconnect theatre and life The underlying concept connecting the aforementioned aspects is that of primitivism which will be discussed in this essay in the context of Jerzy Grotowski Digital Performance Steve Dixon,2007 In the past decade digital media has been increasingly incorporated into live theater and dance and forms of interactive performance have emerged in participatory installations on CD ROM and on the Web This text traces the evolution of these practices and presents accounts of key practitioners and performances Performance Theory Henri Schoenmakers,1986

Segal Theatre Center,1998 The Avant-garde and the Margin Sanja Bahun-Radunović,Marinos Pourgouris,2006 The collection of essays The Avant garde and the Margin New Territories of the Modernist Avant garde refigures the critical and historical picture of the modernist avant garde by introducing a variety of less commonly discussed geo artistic sites and dynamics The contributors explore the multifaceted relations established between the avant garde centers France Germany England and others and their counterparts in the cultural periphery Greece India Japan Poland Quebec Romania and the former Yugoslavia as well as the unique artistic and literary dialogues which these encounters engendered The primary concern of the anthology is the set of relations established between the center and the margin the redefinition of which was pivotal for the formulation of the modernist avant garde aesthetic project itself While enriching the kaleidoscopic picture of modernism the essays in this collection also offer new methodological approaches to this polychrome cultural image In this way the collection avoids the pitfalls of both the traditional diffusionist Eurocentric model of the world and the more recent over relativization of the positions of the margin and the center In their stead the anthology proposes a hermeneutics of encounter that is simultaneously oespatial and oehistorical aware of its limits but convinced of its own necessity
