A Living Sacrifice:

A Living Sacrifice John MacArthur, 1987 A Living Sacrifice Watchman Nee, 1972-11-20 This volume was distilled from a series of basic lessons on practical Christian living delivered by the great Chinese pastor teacher Watchman Nee to Christian workers in Kuling Foochow China in 1948 A Living Sacrifice Anthony Yeo, 2003 A Living Sacrifice: Liturgy and Eschatology in Joseph Ratzinger Roland Millare, 2022-06-13 A Living Sacrifice focuses on the inherent relationship between eschatology and the liturgy in light of Ratzinger's insistence upon the primacy of logos over ethos. When logos is subordinated to ethos, the human person becomes subjected to a materialist ontology that leads to an ethos that is concerned above all by utility and progress, which affects one's approach to understanding the liturgy and eschatology. How a person celebrates the liturgy becomes subject to the individual whim of one person or a group of people. Eschatology is reduced to addressing the temporal needs of a society guided by a narrow conception of hope or political theology. If the human person wants to understand his authentic sacramental logos, then he must first turn to Christ, the incarnate Logos, who reveals to him that he is created for a loving relationship with God and others. The primacy of logos is the central hermeneutical key to understanding the unique vision of Ratzinger's Christocentric liturgical theology and eschatology. This is coupled with a study of Ratzinger's spiritual Christology with a focus on how it influences his theology of liturgy and eschatology through the notions of participation and communion in Christ's sacrificial love. Finally, A Living Sacrifice examines Ratzinger's theology of hope, charity, and beauty, as well as his understanding of active participation in relationship to the eschatological and cosmic characteristics of the sacred liturgy.

Living Sacrifices James Haywood Rolling, Jr., 2003-02 LIVING SACRIFICES addresses the call of God for each of us to live an important life. Our model is the resurrected Christ who offered Himself as a living sacrifice. Following the general themes of chapter 12 of the New Testament book of Romans, Part 1 first takes in view the fullness of God's sacrificial mercy. In Part 2, the text illustrates the transformative capacity found only in cooperation with God's provision on our personal behalf. In Part 3, the text seeks to reveal the power and authority we have been granted to overcome evil with good. LIVING SACRIFICES weaves together common sense, prose, solid scriptural exposition, and candid personal testimony with unique parables and anecdotes that illustrate the text. An original poem opens and sets the theme for each chapter. The author, a visual artist, educator, college administrator, and a member of the Grammy Award-winning Brooklyn Tabernacle Choir, seeks to offer his unique point of view so that those dying to live a more important life may capture a vision of a life worth giving.
