Decolonizing Foreign Language Education Donaldo Macedo, 2019-01-10 Decolonizing Foreign Language Education interrogates current foreign language and second language education approaches that prioritize white western thought Edited by acclaimed critical theorist and linguist Donaldo Macedo this volume includes cutting edge work by a select group of critical language scholars working to rigorously challenge the marginalization of foreign language education and the displacement of indigenous and non standard language varieties through the reification of colonial languages Each chapter confronts the hold of colonialism and imperialism that inform and shape the relationship between foreign language education and literary studies by asserting that a critical approach to applied linguistics is just as important a tool for FL ESL EFL educators as literature or linguistic theory Sociolinguistics: The sociolinguistics of multilingualism Nikolas Coupland, Adam Jaworski, 2009 This title is a new collection in Routledge's Critical Concepts in Linguistics series In six volumes it provides a critical synthesis of the key ideas findings methods and approaches that make up the interdisciplinary field of sociolinguistics It includes both classic texts and contemporary state of the art research with a bias towards the latter The editors aver that the collection will stand as an articulation of the New Sociolinguistics as it is emerging through a sustained reflexive reassessment of the field which is now ongoing set against a core of classic texts

Determinants and Consequences of Language-in-education Policies Christelle Garrouste-Norelius, 2007

Bilingual Education in the 21st Century Ofelia García, 2009 Bilingual Education in the 21st Century examines languages and bilingualism as individual and societal phenomena presents program types variables and policies in bilingual education and concludes by looking at practices especially pedagogies and assessments This thought provoking work is an ideal textbook for future teachers as well as providing a fresh view of the subject for school administrators and policy makers Provides an overview of bilingual education theories and practices throughout the world Extends traditional conceptions of bilingualism and bilingual education to include global and local concerns in the 21st century Questions assumptions regarding language bilingualism and bilingual education and proposes a new theoretical framework and alternative views of teaching and assessment practices Reviews international bilingual education policies with separate chapters dedicated to US and EU language policy in education Gives reasons why bilingual education is good for all children throughout the world and presents cases of how this is being carried out Internationalizing Teaching, Localizing English Paul Robert McPherron, 2008 English in Denmark Peter Harder, 2009 Volume 9 takes up the questions national sociolinguistic strategic economic and educational which arise in relation to the increasing use of English alongside national or vernacular languages focusing on its use as the language of instruction in Danish Universities Inevitably this also makes globalisation a theme of this issue The dilemmas of the universities however have a special character within this wider issue partly because they are in the frontline of globalisation processes and partly because they are regarded as having new and enhanced social significance in the post industrial society In addition to the academic articles in this issue there is a series of position statements written by some of the major participants in the Danish debate on language policy in the universities They were invited to state in about 500 words their essential views on the theme Their contributions give some of the flavour of the argument that has been going on with increasing intensity in Denmark for the past ten years Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts, 2009 English as a Local Language Christina Higgins, 2009 When analyzed in multilingual contexts English is often treated as an entity that is separable from its linguistic environment It is often the case however that multilinguals use English in hybrid and transcultural ways This book explores how multilingual East Africans make use of English as a local resource in their everyday practices by examining a range of domains including workplace conversation beauty pageants hip hop and advertising Drawing on the Bakhtinian concept of multivocality the author uses discourse analysis and ethnographic approaches to demonstrate the range of linguistic and cultural hybridity found across these domains and to consider the constraints on hybridity in each context By focusing on the cultural and linguistic bricolage in which English is often found the book illustrates how multilinguals respond to the tension between local identification and dominant conceptualizations of English as a language for global communication

Travel Notes from the New Literacy Studies Kate Pahl, Jennifer Rowsell, 2006 This book joins two important fields that of literacy and multimodality with a focus on local and global literacies Chapters include work on media popular culture and literacy weblogs global and local crossings in and out of educational settings in such locations as the US the UK South Africa Australia and Canada Policy as Practice

Stephen Backman, 2009 Social Context and Fluency in L2 Learners Lynda Pritchard Newcombe, 2007 The focus in this book is on learners experiences using Welsh outside class but the issues discussed have implications for a wide range of other situations where the population is bilingual or multilingual and interaction takes place in a language of wider communication
