Absence New And Selected Poems:

Absence Antigone Kefala, 1992 A collection of poems by a Greek Australian for whom alienation is a recurring theme Selections from three previously published volumes are included as well as new works Selected Poems Hélène Aji, Jennifer Kilgore-Caradec, 2013-01-16 Complete poems are bulky and too heavy to carry around Collected poems pretend to be complete but usually are not Selected poems are altogether unpretentious and reader friendly But they can be problematic Who decides what poems are important for inclusion in a volume of selected poems When the selection occurs during the author's lifetime may one assume that the author was involved What motivates the choice of one poem over another How do readers' preferences influence this choice How do new readers and familiar readers of a poet negotiate the poems that are left out of the selection The essays in this volume address these questions in a variety of ways and also provide an overview of poetic writing from modernist poets to the present day using selections from the 1940s until now They offer new insight into the uses both pedagogical and critical of selection Because Selected Poems usually address a large general public these essays have also been written for all those who wish to know more about how these slimmer more attractive volumes are produced The Oxford Companion to Modern Poetry in English Jeremy Noel-Tod, Ian Hamilton, 2013-05-23 This impressive volume provides over 1 700 biographical entries on poets writing in English from 1910 to the present day including T S Eliot Dylan Thomas and Carol Ann Duffy Authoritative and accessible it is a must have for students of English and creative writing as well as for anyone with an interest in poetry Selected Poems Allan McNeilage, 1917 Meaningful Absence Across Arts and Media, 2019-03-27 This volume focusses on a rarely discussed method of meaning production namely via the absence rather than presence of signifiers It does so from an interdisciplinary transmedial perspective which covers systematic media comparative and historical aspects and reveals various forms and functions of missing signifiers across arts and media The meaningful silences blanks lacunae pauses etc treated by the ten contributors are taken from language and literature film comics opera and instrumental music architecture and the visual arts Contributors are Nassim Balestrini Walter Bernhart Olga Fischer Saskia Jaszoltowski Henry Keazor Peter Revers Klaus Rieser Daniel Stein Anselm Wagner Werner Wolf Chicorel Index to Poetry in Anthologies and Collections in Print Marietta Chicorel, 1975 Chicorel Index to Poetry in Anthologies and Collections in Print: A-Ex Marietta Chicorel, 1974 When My Absence Becomes a Moon Laureta Rexha, 2024-09-26 Praise for Laureta Rexha's When My Absence Becomes a Moon Within wonderfully visual tensions winter and spring perception and truth stagnation and rebirth waxing and waning Rexha reminds us to find the peace that is all around us in a waterfall a painting a city prayer Stunningly delicate and impactful Crescent Reviews Laureta Rexha's poems are a journey through a landscape of self discovery confession and eventual contentment Each poem captures a milestone in this journey Wael Almahdi author of A Breeze from the East Laureta Rexha establishes herself as a poet who explores and offers her own responses to the drama of modern humanity from their relationship with the Creator to the individual's relationship with themselves amidst their crisis of alienation. Regarding the information conveyed in her verses it can be said that it is measured and for the most part not explicit requiring effort to decipher. This is certainly connected to the author's worldview which is guided by morality and a belief in the recipient's ability to absorb subtle information. Milazim Krasniqi author of Rigjetja e Vetes Both a profound observation on the facets of conversion and a love letter to God's creation Laureta Rexha's When My Absence Becomes a Moon guides the reader through a rediscovery of humanity and the universe. While inner peace can be found the path remains challenging with the world continuing to present its pains and uncertainties. Laureta's work captures both the innocence of conversion and the inevitable coming of age that all of humanity experiences. Your mind will have traversed many planes of thought and wonder by the time the book is done and you'll yearn to take that trip again. Warren Clementson poet and primary school teacher Rexha's collection of poems gives us pause for patient reflection laden with urgency of a universe locked within the human soul. Navigating between distant galaxies the change of the seasons to the beating of one's heart and ticking of the clock deep in the night. To the laughter of children and the familiar sights of her beloved city streets to the quiet restraints of her familiar home that she longs to leave but always returns where it forever shapes her soul. Like the girl who does not know how to leave Rexha leaves us loving accepting but wanting more. Reminding us of the profound transitory nature of life like the scent of a white flower we have missed in our haste and the realization of the moment gone and the splendor transformed. A beautiful dance between the mundane and sublime. Brandon Mayfield author of Grains of Destiny Rexha's collection of poems is a breathtaking journey through Divine love and the beauty of life. Her vivid imagery and emotionally resonant language struck a deep chord with me as a fellow poet. What sets Rexha's work apart is her unique ability to weave these themes with such grace and clarity creating a tapestry of words that feels both timeless and refreshingly original. Her poetry offers a perspective that is deeply personal yet universally relatable making this collection a truly remarkable and unforgettable experience. Flamur Vehapi author of Verses of the Heart Chicorel Index to Poetry in Anthologies and Collections in Print, 1975-1977 Marietta Chicorel, 1978 Presences and Absences - Transdisciplinary Essays Katarína Labudova, Nóra Séllei, 2013-10-03 This volume discusses the question of presence and or absence from a transdisciplinary perspective and intends to provide insights into how a wide range of disciplines addresses this issue which has been at the centre of philosophical theoretical and critical debates in the past decades. As the essays in the volume prove apparently diverse areas can have a lot in common and talk to each other in sometimes surprising ways. The topics discussed include modals in various languages and black slave funeral sermons pragmatic markers and the Australian Stolen Generation the transcendental in poems by Ann Bradstreet Arthur Symons and Philip Larkin short stories by Katherine Mansfield generic presences in Virginia Woolf and contemporary journalism haunting presences in fin de siècle ghost stories and in a contemporary horror film mythical structures in John Cowper Powys and Margaret Atwood and gender politics in Pat Barker.

and Sarah Waters The analyses as they talk to each other create multiple dialogues without imposing closures and ultimate interpretations on the plethora of possible meanings emerging from the juxtaposition of these essays This transdisciplinary volume written in an erudite but reader friendly language will be of great interest to both the academic world as well as a broader readership interested in how linguistic phenomena in general cultural myths of all kinds various cinematic literary and journalistic genres from diverse periods can be approached and opened up to new readings and meanings from the perspective of presences and absences
