Control, Coercion, and Constraint Wolfram Kinzig, Barbara Loose, 2024-12-30 This volume is based on a lecture series that was held during the academic year 2021/2022 at the University of Bonn Its contributors explore the role of religion in overcoming and creating structures of dependency from different disciplines and academic backgrounds The question of the role of religion in justifying perpetuating modifying and abolishing slavery and other forms of strong asymmetrical dependency is still a much debated topic within historical and social sciences The equality of all human beings before God gods or the divine is deeply rooted in religious thought Conversion to one or another religion has therefore often led to critique transformation and even abolition of existing social structures institutions and their corresponding dependencies Yet religious discourse has also been used to justify the subjection of individuals and whole peoples In addition throughout history religious institutions themselves have often mirrored the social hierarchies and inequalities of the surrounding societies Concomitantly practitioners of these religious traditions have created systems of dependency within their own institutional social legal and spiritual structures This volume makes clear that not even the metaphysical world is free of dependencies influential strands of almost all major religious traditions envisage hierarchies of
