Grant, 1897 Power and Peril Michael K.W. Suh, 2020-03-09 This study probes the significance of Paul's statement in 1 Corinthians 3:16 announced to a group of believers in Corinth Do you not know that you are the temple of God and that the spirit of God dwells among you The question is framed in the Greek language such that Paul expected an affirmative response i.e. Yes we know we are the temple of God and yet mapping such an idea onto a gathering of people is rather unprecedented in antiquity By surveying relevant literary texts and material culture from the ancient Mediterranean roughly 400 BCE 200 CE the author shows how Paul appropriated the concept of temple in his exhortation to the Corinthians A few key texts in 1 Corinthians can be read as a cohesive and coherent set of passages that unpack the idea of the Corinthians as the temple of God While these passages are not typically read together this study shows how themes such as power and spirit traditions from Exodus divine benefits and sacrificial foods found in these passages reflect similar concerns observed in temples and other sanctuaries in ancient Greek Roman and Jewish contexts Careful analysis of the religious experience of visitors to temples an important topic that remains largely ignored in secondary literature gives greater clarity to the nuances of Paul s temple discourse As the temple the Corinthian community not only receives God s power and benefits but also remains vulnerable to peril posed by insiders and outsiders
